Cotton Pickers Desert Leaders And Return To Work

ROLPH SEES STRIKE END IN 48 HOURS

Pressure Brought to Bear on Ranchers Weaken Stand Against Arbitration

MEDIATORS GET BUSY

Striking Longshoremen in San Francisco Vote to Arbitrate Differences

(By United Press)

COTTON PICKERS in the lower San Joaquin Valley began to desert strike leaders and return to work today as agencies of three governments moved for mediation of the bloody strike over wage scales.

Representatives of the Mexican and the United States national governments and California state government took steps looking toward an early peace. Governor Rolph predicted the strike would be settled "within 48 hours."

Pressure on determined ranchers weakened their stand against arbitration, according to reports.
A special emissary of the governor interviewed leading growers.
State and national mediators were in the field. Approach of rain and frost periods threatened the harvest and helped conciliation moves.

Ranchers believed the strike movement was broken by the arrest of several leaders, notably of Pat Chambers who is in jail at Visalia.

Headquarters of the state highway patrol and of the sheriff's office in Tulare county strengthened their guard against violence.
They heard reports that ranchers would shoot any strikers who trespassed.

Demand that the rancher-vigilantes be disbanded increased.
George Creel, NRA administrator, Enrique Bravo Mexican consul, and others called on the state to suppress violence.

Peace came on another strike front when the International Longshoremen's association members at San Francisco voted to submit to arbitration the dispute with the Matson Navigation company. The shipping firm employed

SAN FRANCISCO TO GET LABOR MEETING

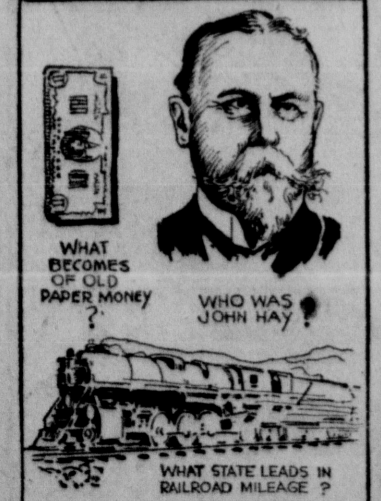

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(UP)—
The American Federation of Labor's annual convention drew toward its end today with only a few controversial matters remaining to be settled and with the conservative element firmly in control.

The executive council, headed by William Green as president, was swept back into office yesterday by unanimous votes.

Remaining disputes included a resolution proposing a boycott by American workers of German-made goods. At least one high executive of the federation opposed this anti-Hitler move.

The federation's traditional stand of non-partisan participation in politics was upheld when the convention defeated a proposal for an independent labor party.

DIRIGIBLE MACON ON WAY TO CALIFORNIA BASE

Lack Of Pants May Cause Team To Lose

SOUTHGATE, Cal., Oct. 13.—(UP)—For the lack of a horse shoe a nation was lost.

For the lack of a pair of pants, South Gate high school's football team may lose today to its traditional enemy, Bell high school.

The pants belonged to Robert Human, center, and a tower (six feet two inches) of strength (243 pounds) on the South Gate team.

Human ripped his pants yesterday in practice and because there wasn't another pair of britches to fit the lad this side of Barnum and Bailey's combined shows, he won't be able to play.

OVER $800,000 PROFIT SHOWN IN STOCK DEAL

Issues Worth Less Than $1 Per Share Is Sold for Better Than $53

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(UP)—
Senate stock market investigation of Dillon, Read and Company turned today to income tax matters in connection with a profit of approximately $800,000 made by a member of the firm through sale at an average price of $53 of securities acquired for less than $1 a share.

James V. Forrestal, vice president of Dillon, Read, was questioned about Canadian and Delaware corporations organized by him to obtain "tax advantages."

Through these corporations, For-restal sold 16,788 shares of United States and foreign securities corporation common stock in the summer of 1929 for a profit of a little more than $800,000.

Forrestal sold the bargain stock to the Canadian corporations owned by himself and his wife. Pecora asked whether income tax was paid on any profit on the sale. Forrestal replied there was "no profit under the law."

"But there was in fact, a profit," Pecora said.

"Yes," Forrestal replied.
"Did the company file an income tax return in 1929?"

"No."
"In 1930, 1931 or 1932?"

Forrestal first replied "no" but corrected himself to say that a return had been filed June 16, 1933.

"Wasn't your corporation persuaded to file an income tax return June 16, 1933, because a short time previous to that date you read testimony before this committee regarding the income tax returns filed by members of another banking firm?" Pecora asked.

"Yes, that is right," Forrestal said.

SEAMAN IS KILLED IN BLAST ON SHIP

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Oct. 13.—
(UP)—Details of an explosion which killed one seaman and seriously injured two others aboard the U. S. S. Cincinnati off Los Angeles harbor were to be reported to a naval board of inquiry today.

Ovander G. Allen, seaman, second class, was catapulted into the sea when a six inch gun exploded. His body was not recovered despite a two-hour search.

Ensign D. A. Stuart, turret officer, and F. L. Austin, seaman, first class, were picked up in a lifeboat. Although they suffered severe burns, they are expected to recover. All three were members of the cruiser's forward twin-six-inch gun crews.

The exact cause of the explosion was not revealed.

SAN FRANCISCO CIVIC LEADERS OPPOSE PRISON

Government Plans to Make Alcatraz "Devil's Island," Draws Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—(UP)— Selection of rocky Alcatraz island, near the Golden Gate as an American "Devil's Island," met instant protest today from civic leaders here.

Meetings were called to organize opposition to the government's reported move to use the present military prison on the island for confinement of desperate gangsters and criminals of the recidivist type.
"I don't think an influx of such prisoners is at all desirable," said J. W. Mallard Jr., head of the chamber of commerce, when informed of the government's decision.

Joins Protest
Mathew Brady, San Francisco county district attorney, added his voice to the chorus of protest.

"We have never had gangsters here and we don't want them now even though they will be cloistered safely," Brady said. "For gangsters, in or out of jail, draw a distinctly undesirable element in their train and we want none of it."

The government's choice for an isolated prison for dangerous criminals is a 12-acre rock in the main shipping channel leading from the Pacific ocean to San Francisco bay.
On it is a "United States army disciplinary barracks," successor to the federal military prison established there in 1861.

Island Isolated Swift currents sweep around the rocky island, a mile and a half from the mainland. The channel ranges in depth from 20 to 80 feet.
Many swimmers have attempted to reach it from the city shore but only one was known to have succeeded.

The military prison, or disciplinary barracks, has 600 cells in three blocks. There were 221 prisoners held there at the latest registration. None of them was considered desperate or hardened. Most were serving sentences for breaches of discipline.

From afar Alcatraz island looks like a medieval fortress with villages and turrets rising tier on

HITLER FAILS TO MEET U. S. ENVOY

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Ambassador William E. Dodd's scheduled appointment with Chancellor Adolf Hitler, at which he was to make representations concerning Nazi outrages against American citizens, was postponed today.

The ambassador was to have presented Secretary of State Cordell Hull's declaration demanding protection for American citizens.
At the appointed hour, however,
the chancellor was in conference with Baron von Neurath, his foreign minister, at the foreign office.

Mr. Dodd waited at the embassy for two hours and a half, expecting a call, but finally went to lunch, pending the fixing of another appointment.

SEVEN ARRESTED AS ROBBERY SUSPECTS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—(UP)—
A far reaching ring of bank bur-dits and counterfeiters was under investigation of federal authorities here today following the arrest of seven men suspected of the robbery of a Lincoln, Kansas, bank in August, 1932.

W. W. Ashe, chief of the secret service bureau here, said he was attempting to link the suspects with a mid-western gang, disclosure of which brought death to Gus Winkler, notorious Chicago gangster, to enforce his silence.

He also was attempting to determine if Elmer S. Wagner, arrested here last August with $90,000 worth of allegedly stolen bonds in his possession, was a member of the same band.

NAVY PLANNING HAWAII FLIGHT OF SIX PLANES

Round World Trip to Begin First Week in December, Reported

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 13.—(INS)— Six naval planes which recently completed a flight from the canal zone to San Diego will attempt a non-stop flight to Honolulu the first week in December as the first leg of the proposed round-the-world flight.
International News Service was informed today in an unofficial but authoritative naval statement.

The plans for the proposed massed flight were first outlined two years ago by the late Admiral William A. Moffett, who later lost his life in the crash of the dirigible Akron on the east coast.

Four steps of the aircraft plans as outlined by Admiral Moffett at that time have already materialized. They are:

1. Construction of the late type twin-motored Wright Whirlwind planes.

2. Flight from Hampton Roads to the Canal Zone.

3. Flight from the Canal Zone to San Diego.

4. Transfer of the dirigible Macon from the east coast to California.

Although Rear Admiral A. W.
Johnson, commander of the fleet air base force here, has declined to verify the report of the proposed non-stop flight to Honolulu, he said upon his arrival here Monday with the Canal Zone fliers that he hoped such a flight could be accomplished and by naval fliers.

Upon the success of the Honolulu hop will depend whether the fliers will continue around the world. The flight would excel the recent accomplishment of the Italian aerial squadron, which recently made a trip from Rome to Chicago.

THANKSGIVING DAY NOT TO BE CHANGED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(UP)—
Thanksgiving will be proclaimed for November 30, the last Thursday in the month as usual, in spite of pleas from organizations that its observance be advanced a week in order to facilitate and lengthen the Christmas shopping period, the White House said today.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 13.— (UP)—Gov. Wilbur L. Cross today approved the movement to advance the day for this year's Thanksgiving while Yale university economists decried the argument of exponents who think it will help business.

The economists saw considerable trouble for businesses and industries that operate on rigid schedules planned far in advance, and little material benefit.

They opposed the idea purely for material reasons. Sentiment and historical feeling do not figure in the matter, they said.

READ'S PURSE FOR FIGHT DEBUT HELD

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 12.—(UP)— Creditors stretched eager fingers today toward the $100 Alfred C.
Read, Jr., socialite broker, earned in his two-minute professional boxing debut here.

Read was still dazed by the knockout blow which ended the fight when a department store filed a writ of attachment against his purse.

The aspirant for boxing fame showed his ring training by countering quickly with an explanation a friend already had claimed the $100. The department store marked time before aiming another blow.

Read entered the prize ring after the sensational trial in which his estranged wife, alleging alienation of his affections, won a $75,000 judgment from Claire Windsor, film actress.

Friday 13th Is Nothing To the Stork

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 13.—(UP)—Men may respect superstition, but not the stork. Six babies were born in as many hours of Friday, the thirteenth, and Kansas City doctors said they would not be surprised if the number was increased to 13 by nightfall.

SURVEY SHOWS RETAIL BUYING IS INCREASING

Dun and Bradstreet Report Reveals Fall Season
Business Pickup

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(UP)—
The most impressive pick-up of the fall season has been recorded in the week just passed, the Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., business review showed today, with the "Buy Now" campaign proving a stimulus in the demand for merchandise.

"As consumer buying power already has been increased by almost four billions of dollars since last March, the possibility of a buyers' strike, provoked by the rising level of prices, becomes more remote each week as the public generally has been brought to a realization that prices next spring will be from 25 to 30 per cent above those now prevailing.

Even at that point they will be below the highs of 1929 by a good margin," the survey said.

There has been a wide surge of retail buying, the report said, with the crest being reached Columbus day, when the crowds in the stores
"had all the semblance of a pre-Christmas buying rush." Wholesale markets, after three weeks of quietude, have become more active, "although buying is proceeding with caution."

Producers of capital goods, according to the survey, have yet to fall in line with the constructive movement which has benefited so many industries since early summer.

SHERIFF SLAIN AND PRISONER RELEASED

LIMA, O., Oct. 13.—(UP)—Six killers who invaded the local jail to murder the sheriff and free a prisoner were sought today in Ohio and Indiana.

Sheriff Jess L. Sarber died a few minutes after he was shot by gunmen who freed John Dillinger, alleged bank robber.

Before he died Sarber identified a picture of Harry Copeland, escaped convict from the Indiana state penitentiary. All the others were believed to have escaped with Copeland several weeks ago.

Dillinger accompanied his liberators in their flight.

Sarber's wife and Deputy Sheriff
Wilbur Sharp were with Sarber when three of the men entered the jail. The man identified as Copeland demanded Dillinger.

Sarber asked for his credentials and Copeland produced a pistol.
When Sarber reached for his, he was shot.

INDICTMENTS TO BE ASKED ON HOARDERS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—A federal grand jury will be asked next week to vote indictments against at least three alleged Los Angeles gold hoarders, it was learned today.

Concurrently, U. S. Attorney Percy M. Hall announced the government was preparing a sweeping investigation to determine the number of persons here who have defied President Roosevelt's anti-hoarding order by concealing gold reserves.

Indictments will be asked, it was said, on the strength of a secret inquiry by department of justice operatives.

Big Airship Flies Over Mississippi

Five Million Dollar Base at Sunnyvale Ready to Receive Big Ship

BULLETIN
MERIDIAN, Miss., Oct. 13.— (UP)—The dirigible Macon, en route to the Pacific coast, was sighted over Meridian at noon today, flying in a westerly direction.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 13.— (INS)—Carrying 14 officers and 55 seamen members of the crew, the U. S. S. Macon today was en route to her new permanent base at Moffett Field (formerly Sunnyvale Field), near San Francisco, where she is scheduled to arrive at sunrise Sunday.

The navy's newest dirigible soared away from the naval training station here at 6:10 p. m. last night, under command of Commander Alger H. Dresel.

Following a southern route, the Macon was scheduled to pass over Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana,
Texas and Arizona. Her itinerary will be changed navy officers said, only if adverse weather is met.

The dirigible carried enough fuel for 5000 miles of cruising at a 50-knot rate.

Only one of the six planes the Macon normally carries in her framework hangar is within the big blimp. Four have already left for the West Coast, and the other will take off tomorrow on an independent flight.

Basing at Moffett Field after arrival on the coast, the Macon will operate permanently with the Pacific battle fleet.

SUNNYVALE READY

SUNNYVALE, Cal., Oct. 13.—
(UP)—The $5,000,000 naval air base here was ready today to receive the dirigible Macon in what is to be its permanent home.

The 785-foot airship is expected to reach here at dawn Sunday on its flight from Lakehurst on the Atlantic coast.

For weeks the ground crew of the Sunnyvale base has practiced its maneuvers for the ticklish task of "walking" the Macon into the monster hangar. Capt. H. E. Shoemaker, commanding officer, had on his staff many men who had served at Lakehurst.

The permanent force at the base numbered 120 marines and 163 sailors. An additional contingent of marines was expected to assist in handling the crowds who will come for a close-up view of the giant craft.

The base has parking accommodations for about 5,000 automobiles within the reservation itself.
About 10,000 more can be parked in fields and along the highway near the station.

Highway patrol officials expected to reroute traffic to avoid confusion. Their plans called for limiting Bayshore boulevard to southbound traffic only. North bound machines would be cut off at Mountain View.

SEN. JAMES J. DAVIS ACQUITTED BY JURY

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(UP)—A second indictment charging Sen.
James J. Davis with violation of the federal lottery laws will be nolle-prossed, it was believed today. Davis was acquitted last night on a similar charge in an emotionally tense federal courtroom.

Both Davis and his co-defendant, Theodore G. Miller, head of the propagation department of the Loyal Order of Moose, wept when the foreman of the jury announced the not guilty verdict. The spectators, composed mainly of officials and members of the Moose, of which Davis is the supreme leader, cheered.

Davis left immediately for Washington where he will address the convention of the American Federation of Labor.

48 Teaspoons Are Removed From Stomach

CENTRAL ISLIP, N. Y., Oct. 13.—(UP)—A successful operation in which 48 teaspoons and six other foreign particles were removed from a woman's stomach was revealed today. The patient was an inmate of the Central Islip hospital for the insane.

The woman complained of severe stomach pains several days ago, an X-ray was taken, showing the spoons neatly stacked in the stomach.
Two bolts with nuts, a large screw, a needle, a pencil and a piece of glass also were observed.

The operation was performed by Dr. E. Raymond Hildreth, Bay Shore, L. I., surgeon. He assured doubtful inquirers that all the 54 articles were removed.

ADS IN GERMAN PAPERS UNDER NAZI CONTROL

Both Editorial and Advertising Matter Will Be Censored Soon

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Proceeding with plans to bring both editorial and advertising content of publications completely under government control,
Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda, once more has asserted the Nazi premise of the "totality" of the state.

visions for bringing the advertising of the nation directly under the government are even more sweeping than those published recently concerning editorial matter.

The new advertising law provisions included:

1. For the sake of greater uniformity and efficiency the entire field of advertising, newspapers, pamphlets, circulars and other forms, is placed under government control. Their control will be wielded by an advertising council.

Members of the advertising council will be appointed by the minister of propaganda in co-operation with other governmental department heads concerned.

3. The council will be under the supervision of the minister of propaganda, in co-operation with ministers of other departments concerned with economic matters.

4. Any advertising requires a permit by the advertising council.

GENEVA ARMS MEET FACED BY DEADLOCK

GENEVA, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Negotiations for a disarmament agreement between Germany and the world war allies were in deadlock today as Dr. Rudolf Nadolny, chief German delegate, left for Berlin to receive new instructions from his government.

The disarmament steering committee meets tomorrow and the full world conference is to meet Monday.

Many delegates feared another crisis unless Germany recedes from its demand that it be permitted to rearm unless the allied nations—France, particularly—at once proceed to reduce their own armaments as they promised to do fourteen years ago when the Versailles treaty was signed.

CRUISERS LEAVE CUBA

HAVANA, Oct. 13.—(UP)—American destroyers steamed from their posts along the Cuban coast today in a gesture of confidence that there would be no incidents endangering American lives.

American Ambassador Sumner Welles ordered the destroyers to leave Matanzas, Cienfuegos, Manzanillo and Puerto Padre, all potential danger spots, because of the easing tension in the provinces.

All American ships will remain in Cuban waters, however, ready to race to any spot where there is trouble that might endanger Americans.

Only the smaller ports were affected by Welles' order.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED AT CONVENTION

President Green Exhorts
Delegates to Support Report of Committee

HAYES IS SPEAKER

All Countries Opposing Organization of Trade Unions Come Under Ban

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The American Federation of Labor today declared a boycott against goods made in Germany and in other countries whose governments have opposed free trade union organization.

The boycott, originally planned for Germany alone, was extended to other countries when the federation's resolutions committee reported its belief that it would be "unwise" to single out one government.

Discussion of the boycott continued entirely on the German situation. President William Green, exhorting the convention to support the committee's report, declared he himself would have gone much further in condemning the Hitler regime.

The committee's report mentioned
"the government of Italy with its Fascism, and Russia with its Communism, and China with its chaos," as presenting conditions making free trade union organization impossible. It recommended inclusion of these governments in the boycott.

Under the federation's action workers of America would be expected to refrain from purchasing goods made in any of the countries involved. It was made clear that the boycott weapon was not to be used against any persons in the United States and would be aimed exclusively at imported goods.

Willard Wins Fire Prevention Contest Second Time

ECONOMIST TO BEGIN LECTURE SERIES TUESDAY

WILL ROGERS
says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 13. (To the Editor of The Register:)

We celebrated Columbus Day here, and he never even saw California.

(Chamber of Commerce fell down again.)

Old "Eric the Red" from Garboland already had a home in America, where he spent his summers, but this Columbus was quite a fellow.

He is the only man then, or since, who ever had a queen pawning jewels. Columbus was an Italian, but he made Spain pay his fare over.

The other night up to Charley Chaplin's house I met Emil Ludwig, the world's greatest biographer, who has written more things about big men than Walter Winchell has about little ones. Well, Ludwig tells me that Napoleon was an Italian, too, that was just operating under the auspices of France. Lafayette saved the U. S., Pershing and some Englishmen saved France, I can't find where any local boy ever made good at home. I got to get with this Ludwig and go into history deeper when Chaplin ain't clowning around.

Yours in search of facts,
WILL ROGERS.

Each intervening Tuesday evening there will be a round table discussion of the previous lecture for those who are interested in a more intensive study of the subject. Both the lecture and the discussion group are free of charge.

The series will continue with the following subjects: "Adjustment to Modern Conditions," October 21; "The Idea of the NRA," November 14; "Economic Consequences of the NRA," November 28; "Changes in Economic Thought in the Past Decade," December 12; "The Future: What Is in Store for Us?" January 9. In each case Professor Laine will conduct a form discussion at the close of his lecture.

TOASTMASTERS FORM SECOND UNIT OF CLUB

Almost exactly nine years after the organization of the first Toastmasters club, which was instituted on October 22, 1924, in Santa Ana, a representative group of men met last night at the Y. M. C. A. to organize a new club, made necessary by the number of men who are unable to secure attendance to the original club on account of its membership limit of 30 members.

The new club was started with 17 men signing up as charter members. They were: E. S. Wooster, E. H. Layton, A. M. Blanding, H. E. Whipple, F. H. Eley, Guy Penn, A. H. Allen, Max Hauschild, Allison Honer, Lewis H. Williams, Carlyle Dennis, L. P. Mohler, G. H. Lawrence, C. B. Weidner, R. W. Coleman, M. Maccurda and D. O. Rice.

A demonstration program was put on by members of the Number One Toastmasters club, with W. H. Wright acting as toastmaster, and speeches by Ernest S. Wooster, James Anderson, Don O. Rice and D. H. Tibbals.

A constitution was adopted and officers were elected, and the new club was declared duly established, with next Thursday evening set as its next meeting time.

E. H. Layton was named president, Don O. Rice, vice president, E. S. Wooster, secretary, M. Maccurda, treasurer, and Carlyle Dennis, sergeant-at-arms.

The strike of lettuce and tomato packers in the Salinas-Watsonville area continued without violence.

New industrial strife broke out in Los Angeles where 2000 workers in the dressmaking industries walked out. Five persons were reported beaten by strike pickets. The strikers demanded recognition of their union.

Grover Lacy, 37, Huntington Beach welder, was seriously injured last night when his automobile was struck by a Pacific Electric car in Sunset Beach, the second accident involving a street car and automobile in Orange county yesterday.

Lacy was taken to the Long Beach Community hospital where physicians reported today that his condition was improved. His machine was completely demolished by the speeding interurban car.

Charles Wyant, 27, Long Beach truck driver who was injured early yesterday morning when he drove his heavy gasoline truck and trailer into a Pacific Electric car at Stanton, also was reported as improved at the Long Beach hospital. He narrowly escaped death when the gasoline in the truck caught fire and burned the truck and part of the street car.

Mrs. Eva Mae McConnell, 1218 Orange avenue, narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday noon when her car overturned coming down the hill on the Coast boulevard in the business district of Laguna Beach. Mrs. McConnell applied her brakes when her machine picked up speed down the hill. The left rear wheel gripped first and turned the car over on its side by the curb. The woman stepped from the car uninjured and directed its removal to a garage for minor repairs.

Two petitions for probation, out of the three that were heard by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel, were denied this morning.

Remedios Saldana, convicted of possession of a firearm by an alien, was sentenced to serve one year in the county jail.

Jose Gandara was denied probation on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor and ordered to serve three months in the county jail.

Gilbert Talamantes, found guilty on a charge of attempted grand theft involving an automobile, was granted probation for a period of two years. One of the terms of his probation is that he spend four months in the county jail.

Each of the five persons booked in the county jail last night was charged with violation of the liquor laws, including two for drunk driving and a junior college student arrested for drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

James D. Brown, 48, Los Angeles salesman, was arrested by Motor Officer George Boyd at Fourteenth and Main streets at 5:35 p. m. yesterday and taken to the county jail for drunk driving.

Mrs. Winterford Popper, 20, Long Beach, was booked on a drunk driving charge by California Highway Patrolman Horace Inge at 6 p. m. yesterday. Inge, patrolling the highway at Stanton where a street car hit a gasoline truck yesterday morning, was notified that a woman had crowded another machine off the road and was approaching the street car crossing.

When Mrs. Popper arrived, still driving from side to side of the road, Inge put her under arrest. Her male companion, who had not been drinking was not held.

Jean Smith, junior college student, was booked at 8:35 p. m. for drunkenness and disturbing the peace after he was arrested by Chief John Stanton of Tustin following a fight.

Emmett D. Zumwalt, 39, oil worker, was brought to the jail for disturbing the peace and drunkenness at 10:35 p. m. by Chief Gus Barnes of Placentia.

B. Garland, 39, Indian from the Pala reservation, was arrested for drunkenness at Fourth and French streets by Officers F. L. Grouard and F. A. Hantsberger and booked at the jail at midnight.

With the compilation of information required in the formal application for a loan to the county under the public works program of the National Recovery Act, completed last night Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors, and County Clerk J. M. Backs, signed the application this morning. It was forwarded immediately to the federal emergency administrator of public works.

The application will seek approximately $915,000 under the gift and loan provisions of the National Industry Recovery Act. The project involves expenditure of $1,835,441 of which the War department will pay half, making the harbor improvement a federal project. The remaining half of the cost must be borne by the county.

Under the present plan the county will apply for the entire $915,000 under the gift and loan clause of the recovery act. Following that procedure the federal government would make an outright gift to the county of 30 percent of the amount requested. The balance would be loaned for a period of 30 years at 4 percent.

If the 30 percent grant is made it will be necessary for the county to call a bond election and vote bonds in excess of $600,000 to loan to the government as security for the loan. It is hoped by leaders in the move that it will be possible to include the project on the ballot for the special water election to be held November 19.

Friday, the 13th, Celebrated By Babies' Arrival

Friday, October 13, brought bundles of noisy joy into the homes of two young couples, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bernhardt, 1547 Neptune street, Wilmington and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Byron, 413 East Trussell street, Fullerton, with the stark as messenger at St. Joseph hospital.

Shortly after the clock struck twelve last night, when all omens of Friday, the 13th should have been in effect, a 7½ pound son was born to Mrs. Bernhardt. He was immediately given the name, Clyde Stanley Jr. His mother, the former Miss Alice Prather of this city, is the daughter of Mrs. Amelia Prather Osterlag, now of Los Angeles. The babe's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barker of Orange.

Much later in the morning, when Friday, the 13th was well along in hours, a daughter, Marlene Patricia, was born to Mrs. Russell Byron. The little maid weighed slightly more than 8 pounds. Her mother was formerly Miss Lorraine Joyce Conkle of Garden Grove, daughter of Mrs. George Beard of Santa Ana. Mr. Byron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Byron of Fullerton.

PRICES FIXED THURSDAY FOR CURRENT CROP

A plan to remove a 240,000-bag surplus from the domestic market was hailed by growers in Orange county today as a "lifesaver" for the walnut industry in California, Washington and Oregon.

An assessment of 2½ cents a pound was levied by the newly established federal walnut control board, of which Arthur J. McFadden, Santa Ana, is chairman, on holders of last year's surplus crop and packers of new crop at a meeting yesterday afternoon in Los Angeles.

Principal objectives of the control and marketing agreement are to remove burdensome surpluses from the domestic market and to divert such surpluses into non-competitive channels such as the export market and to shelling plants.

Under the plan, the control board will purchase the entire surplus from packers, thus stabilizing prices. The surplus was estimated on the basis of a 200,000-bag carryover from last year and a 40,000-bag surplus for the 1933 crop.

Prices Announced
As soon as the control board announced a basis for settlement with its grower members, the California Walnut Growers' board of directors announced the following prices for walnuts as a basis for settlement with its grower members, which follow:

Pack	Large Europa13c	12½c
	Large budded13c	12½c
	Medium, Franquette12½c	11½c
	Mayette, Payne12½c	11½c
	Number ones, fancy12½c	11½c
	Concord, Franquette12½c	11½c
	Mayette, Payne12½c	11½c
	Medium budded12c	10c
	Long type babies8½c	8c
	Round type babies7½c	7c

It should be noted, it was said, that the control board assessment of 2½ cents per pound is already deducted from these prices announced to the growers. And in quoting to its trade, the association has added the 2½ cents per pound surplus control charge, and as its prices are quoted on a basis delivered eastern markets, it has also added 2 cents per pound for freight, consolidation, and assembling charges.

Directors from the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association who attended the state directors' meeting were Charles Van Wyk, C. L. Hallett, B. B. McCulla and L. E. Smith. A. E. Confer, manager, and Mrs. Josephine Lykke, secretary, also attended.

Manager Confer said today that the crop this year, while of high quality, will be even shorter than was anticipated.

Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers' association, commenting on the situation, said:

"The California walnut industry was facing the most critical situation in more than 20 years, before the surplus control plan was adopted. Utter market demoralization was an absolute certainty without surplus control. This agricultural adjustment act is a life-saver for our industry. The control agreement, put into effect today and signed by practically all Oregon, Washington and California packers, assures our growers from 3 cents to 5 cents a pound net more for their walnuts than would have been obtainable otherwise. In round figures, this means a return of from two to three and one-half million dollars more on the 1933 crop than growers would have received on an uncontrolled market, and the success of this program spells the difference between profitable operation and bankruptcy for a considerable number of growers within the walnut industry."

BARBERS MEET IN FULLERTON TONIGHT

All barbers of Santa Ana and Orange county today were invited to attend a county-wide meeting to be held in the offices of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 o'clock tonight to take further action on methods of procedure in Orange county regarding standardization of prices of haircuts and other barber services.

The meeting tonight is an outgrowth of the session held in Los Angeles day before yesterday when Orange county's delegation protested against the adoption of the 65-cent rate for haircuts, maintaining that the former price of 50-cent haircuts should be maintained.

Cash, Keys Taken By Purse Snatcher

Miss Mabel Sumpter, 107 South Ross street, had her purse snatched from her hand near First and Ross streets at 6:30 p. m. yesterday, she reported to police today.

A young man stepped from a shadow and grabbed the purse, she declared, and then ran swiftly away. The black purse contained $30 or $35 in cash as well as keys for her home and office. She told police the man appeared about 5 feet 8 inches tall, heavy set, was wearing a heavy work cap and light shirt and pants.

Good Progress Made In Chest Drive

Pledges to the Santa Ana Community Chest in the 1933 campaign had advanced beyond the $11,000 mark on reports made to headquarters, 504 North Main street, this morning. Department heads are scheduled to make a series of reports Saturday and Monday from schools, public employees, establishment employees and the utilities division, which it is anticipated will push the appeal to the half-way mark at least.

Pledges to date have produced sufficient cash that an immediate remittance will be made to Chest agencies to carry on their programs for the month of October, it was reported today by W. K. Hillyard, acting president of the Chest. The remittances will be a full twelfth of the approved budgets, Mr. Hillyard said.

REGISTRAR OF CONTRACTORS TO SPEAK HERE

Col. Carlos W. Huntington, director of professional and vocational standards and registrar of contractors for the state of California, will be the featured speaker at a meeting of the General Contractor's Association of Orange County to be held in James' cafe, formerly Ketter's, Santa Ana, next Tuesday night at 6:30 o'clock. It was announced today by Frederic W. Sanford, secretary of the Orange County Builders' Exchange.

Because of the position of the speaker in state activities, an unusually large attendance is anticipated, Sanford said. All general and sub-contractors of Orange county were invited to attend the meeting.

The contractor's association now is completing work on a county code of ethics and fair competition which will be presented to the state commissioner of corporations in the near future. It was learned today. Contractors are seeking the approval of labor organizations regarding wage schedules and hours of work before the code is submitted. A report on progress of the program will be made at the meeting Tuesday night.

Those who wish to attend were asked to call either 1487-W or 2560 for reservation for the dinner which will precede the meeting. Allison Homer, president, will preside. George W. Barrows is secretary.

Suspect Wanted In Orange County Jumps $1000 Bail

Despite a widespread search by Chicago police and Deputy Sheriff Merle Dean of Orange county, Howard Mitchell, wanted here for bail jumping on grand theft charges in 1931, was still at liberty today and Sheriff Logan Jackson has notified Dean to return home unless he captures Mitchell by Saturday.

Dean left Santa Ana on September 22 to bring Mitchell back from Chicago, where he had been arrested on suspicion of another charge. Placed under $1000 bail awaiting the arrival of Dean, Mitchell disappeared and has not been heard of since. Dean is in Oklahoma City at present but Mitchell has apparently stayed away from his old haunts there. Mitchell was bound over to the superior court by Judge Kenneth Morrison in 1931 but jumped his $3000 bail. Identification circulars were sent all over the United States and it was one of these in Chicago that led to his arrest for the local authorities. Mitchell is wanted here on a warrant signed by William Smith of Santa Ana. It is charged that the defendant organized an oil royalties corporation and succeeded in defrauding nearly $35,000 from Orange county residents.

Tucker To Build New $3500 House

L. L. Tucker, 907 Kilson Drive, will erect a six-room home at 1104 North Flower street. It was learned today from the Office of Building Inspector S. I. Preble. The building permit calls for a $3500 house and garage, which will be built by Jasper Farney, 313 Bush street, general contractor.

MURDER CASE SUSPECT DENIES CRIME GUILT

Accused of the murder of Lorea Eckles, 16 years ago, at a dance hall in El Toro, Jose Sanchez appeared this morning before Superior Judge G. K. Scofield and entered a plea of not guilty. His trial was set for December 11 after his attorney, W. M. Burke, had waived for his client, his statutory right to a trial within 30 days.

Waiving the right to immediate trial Burke said that the murder had been committed many years ago and that defense witnesses were scattered about the country. The extra time would be necessary, he said, in order to secure the presence of these witnesses.

Donald Warrn McEuen, charged with burglarizing the Newport Beach home of Mrs. Carrie B. Hill, pleaded not guilty and had his trial set for November 6. According to the district attorney's office McEuen was arrested after a watchman had surprised him and a companion driving away from the Hill home with a truck laden with mattresses and other articles. Charged with failure to stop and render aid after an automobile accident on U. S. Highway 101 Carmen Abila pleaded not guilty this morning and will have his trial November 9. Abila is accused of failing to stop and render aid after Sophia Perra was injured in an automobile wreck.

Phillip Delcie pleaded not guilty to possession of a blackjack and will have his trial on November 8. Delcie is a brother of Sylvia Delcie who is in jail awaiting arraignment in Superior court next Friday on a charge of murder.

Hollis Cunningham pleaded guilty to second degree burglary and was placed on probation. Hearing on the application was set for October 27. Cunningham originally was charged with burglary in connection with entering the home of J. W. Sackett in Anaheim. Oswald Maurer, also accused of burglarizing the Sackett home, pleaded not guilty. Trial was set for November 6.

CHARGES MATE TIRED OF CARING FOR HER

Alleging that her husband told her to go out and meet some other man who would take care of her as he was tired of the job, Mrs. Nettie Adkins has filed suit for divorce from her husband, Roy V. Adkins, Santa Ana electrician. They were married in Los Angeles October 17, 1914, and separated September 30, last. Mrs. Adkins is seeking custody of the couple's two children and $30 monthly for their support. In addition to charging her husband with cruelty she charged him with non-support.

Dance Band Starts Southland Tour

Everett Hoagland and His Band, featured at the Rendezvous Ballroom, Balboa, are being sent out on a tour of Southern California by the management, it was announced today. Headquarters will remain at the Rendezvous, where the band will entertain one or two nights a week. The Rhythm Boys, who will appear on the program tonight, are just back from successful engagements in various Southland cities.

NEW JOBLESS ORGANIZATION MEETS TONIGHT

A meeting of the Associated Unemployed of Santa Ana will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at new headquarters, 908 West Fourth street, it was announced today. All members and those who wish to become members were invited to attend the meeting, when important reports from county activities and concerning the federal aid program will be discussed. A telephone has been installed, and the number is 5210, it was announced. An allotment of 300 gallons of gasoline, the share allowed the group from the county allocation by the government, is being dispensed today and used in motive operations.

The new organization now is supplying 209 members and their families with bread, fruits, vegetables, clothing, some furniture and staples, officials stated. The officials expressed appreciation for the assistance given by residents of the city in their program to help themselves.

COUNTY BIRTHS JUMP 20 WHILE STATE DROPS

While the number of births dropped in the state as a whole, statistics for the first six months of 1935 as compared with the same period for 1934 showed an increase of 20 births in Orange county.

For the first six months in 1935 there were 848 children born in Orange county, according to statistics compiled by Dr. Gilles S. Porter, director of the state department of public health. For the same period in 1934 the county totalled 828.

The report shows that while birth rates have increased steadily in the rural districts and smaller cities, the opposite is true in the centers of population.

During the first six months of 1935 births in the state totalled 37,098 as compared to 38,091 for the same period in 1934, a decrease of approximately 1000 births.

The city of San Diego was the largest city in the state to report a gain in the number of babies born since January 1.

"An analysis of births by races indicates that conspicuous reductions are occurring in the number of births among foreign-born races. The percentage of white births increased during the first six months of the year, totaling 78.5 per cent of all births, while last year this percentage was 78.5," Dr. Porter said.

"During this period Mexican births in the state dropped almost 1 per cent. Similar decreases are noted among Japanese and Chinese, while the proportion of Negro births remains the same. Increases occurred among Indians."

LIFT COSTS S. A. MAN WATCH, CASH

Held up at the point of a gun, Ray Mossberg, 524 North Van Ness street, was robbed of a valuable watch and small change early yesterday morning by three men who gave him a ride in their car from Long Beach on the coast highway, he reported to sheriff's officers yesterday afternoon.

Mossberg said he accepted the ride about 5 a. m. and was robbed near the Bolsa Chico Gun club. After taking his watch, valued at

S. A. MAN SINGS IN NEW YORK THEATER

Santa Ana friends of Robert E. Bradford, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bradford, 1514 Spurgeon street, who have watched the steady advance in the world of music of this former local soloist, learned today that he is now singing with the Lyman orchestra at the Capitol theater in New York City.

He went to New York directly from Kansas City after completing an engagement there, and last Sunday sang over the NBC network immediately after his arrival in the eastern metropolis.

Bradford has been identified for the past year with Paramount, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and First National studios in Hollywood and has sung on many radio programs. He is a graduate of Santa Ana schools and junior college, and ever since boyhood has been prominent in musical affairs of the city, singing on countless programs and in musical productions.

$75 and about $1 in change, the men forced him out of the car, he said. Two of the men were described as tall and about 25 years of age while the third was smaller. The car was a small coach.

HARRY RILEY NAMED HEAD OF COMMITTEE

Harry D. Riley, secretary of the Automotive Trades Association of Orange County has been appointed chairman of a committee to draft a constitution and by laws for a Southern California federation of automotive groups, it was learned here today.

A meeting of new car dealers in the Orange county group was held yesterday afternoon to discuss cooperation with the national code signed last week by President Roosevelt. Officers and directors of the new and old cabinets met last night in the association offices in the First National bank building for a joint installation.

Earl Matthews of Santa Ana was the outgoing president and George McConnell of Santa Ana assumed the presidency.

SOCIETY ADDS MEMBERS

TALBERT, Oct. 12.—Two new members, Margie and Betty Harper were added by the Junior Missionary society at this week's meeting at the home of Mrs. Anna Helm, president of the adult society. Several children of the Greenville church were made honorary members. Miss Ruth Moody is superintendent of the junior group.

ENGINEER OPPOSES WATER SPREADING

Discussing the general water conditions in Orange county C. Roy Browning, engineer for the Irvine company, addressed more than 40 junior college men Wednesday night at a meeting of the Santa Ana Junior college chapter of the American Association of Engineers in the science building.

Browning's topic was centered on the water conservation and underground water distribution of this county and explained how water could be saved through proper irrigation methods and through the control of weeds in the Santa Ana river bed. He went on to point out the various water basins and what San Bernardino is doing with water that should be allowed to come into Orange county.

Preceding the talk to which men of the engineering division and of letters and science were invited, the association held a business meeting.

Police News

A warning was issued by police today that advertising solicitors for a police magazine had no authorization from the Orange County Peace Officers' association or other law enforcement agency in the county.

Gertrude Pickel, 2430 Oakmont street, reported to police yesterday that a package of dress goods was stolen from her parked car on West Fourth street.

Tom Owens, 593 Cypress street, had his bicycle stolen from his home yesterday, he reported to police.

The automobile of Donald Wolfe Maselle, 1011 North Olive street, has been stolen, he reported to police yesterday.

Clarence Fry, Huntington Beach, arrested for drunk driving Monday, had charges changed to reckless driving in Anaheim justice court Tuesday, was sentenced to pay $50 or serve 25 days in jail, and paid the fine.

Ernest Bickford, charged with drunkenness, was committed to the county jail for 7 to 12 days Tuesday when he failed to pay a police court Tuesday.

Armer Gunnert, 205 South Ross street, paid $5 of a $10 fine for speeding when he appeared in police court yesterday.

Vargas Cirilo, held for non-support of a minor child, has been released from the county jail without bond by Judge Halsey I. Spencer.

Otto F. Packard, 22, Norwalk truck driver, was booked at the county jail at noon yesterday on charges of non-support of his wife.

Joseph Stephens, 30, Chicago chauffeur, held on investigation of grand theft, and Charles Kline, 16, Pennsylvania, held as a witness, were booked at the county jail yesterday afternoon.

Carl J. Engleman, 33, 2019 Halladay street, was released without bond by Judge Kenneth Morrison last night after being booked at the jail yesterday afternoon for non-support of a minor child.

Mrs. Dollie Dean, 34, Santa Ana, was booked at the jail at 4:30 p. m. yesterday for assault and battery by Chief and Mrs. W. H. Williams of Brea.

Returned from Hanford by Deputy Sheriff G. F. McKelvey, Merjido Garcia, 57, 602 Fairlawn street, was booked at the jail last night for non-support of a minor child on a complaint issued by Judge Kenneth Morrison on October 4.

A painted sign was stolen from the front door of the Madam Mario Louise hat shop, 304 West Third street, it was reported to police yesterday.

James John Walsh, held on a charge of murder on a gambling ship, was taken from the county jail yesterday and transferred to the Los Angeles county jail.

SURCHARGE ON PULLMAN FARES IS ELIMINATED

Action of the western railroads in cutting their basic first class rates from 3.5 to 3 cents a mile, and elimination of the Pullman surcharge, which cuts Pullman rates one-third, effective December 1, should tremendously stimulate tourist travel to the Pacific coast this winter, according to E. B. Sharpley, local representative of the Southern Pacific company.

A reduction of slightly more than 25 per cent will be made in the cost of first class roundtrips from Chicago to the Pacific coast, and reduction in the roundtrip cost of a Pullman lower berth to Chicago will amount to $18.76, making a total reduction of $48.54, Sharpley said.

The 2-cent-a-mile coach fares, similar to those placed in effect by Southern Pacific early last summer, also will be available.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

POLITICS

Plenty of potential political pyrotechnics lie back of William E. Humphrey's absolute refusal to admit he's out as a Republican member of the Federal Trade Commission.

Repercussions undoubtedly will be reverberating all over the floor of the U. S. Senate when Congress convenes in January. It is a well known fact that the delay so far has been a stink in the nostrils of the Republicans.

But more is back of the row than has appeared in print. It hasn't been merely a demand by President Roosevelt for Humphrey's resignation and an insistent refusal on Humphrey's part to acquiesce thereto.

If our best ear-to-the-ground operatives are to be believed, the beleaguered Federal Trade Commissioner is playing a deep game by declining to roll over and play dead. There is reason to believe he was egged on by the big-shot strategists of the Republican Party.

In fact there is circumstantial evidence lying around in the dark corners that justify a surmise that Herbert Hoover in person might have had something to do with the Humphrey decision to fight it out to the last ditch. The Commissioner has been serving by virtue of a Hoover appointment.

It all goes back to the time the former President paid a visit to Chicago's Century of Progress.

PAIS
At least four stalwarts of the last administration also found it convenient to go to Chicago at the same time. They included John Cal O'Laughlin, right-hand man to Republican National Chairman Everett Sanders; Lawrence Richey, who was Mr. Hoover's chief and confidential secretary; Pat Hurley, who was Secretary of War; and Mark Sullivan, newspaper correspondent and author who has come to be recognized as the inside historian of the Hoover administration.

Reports belatedly trickling back to Washington would indicate there was more to this huddle than a family reunion. O'Laughlin, it is reported, carried with him the correspondence that had passed to that date between President Roosevelt and Commissioner—or ex-Commissioner—Humphrey.

HUDDLE
The start of this interchange contained nothing to lead one to believe Humphrey was getting set to fight for his rights.

Mr. Roosevelt asked for his resignation because they failed to draw a bead over the same gun-sight.

Humphrey replied in effect that he had served so long in public office—first as a Congressman and then as a member of the Trade Commission—that he had lost his contacts with private enterprise. He asked for a month's delay so he could line himself up a job on the outside.

The Republican Commissioner got his month's respite and more. It was just before Mr. Roosevelt was ready to renew his resignation demand that the Four Horsemen of the G. O. P. went to Chicago to see their former "Chief."

O'Laughlin had the correspondence in his pocket. Humphrey now is putting up a finish fight against ouster. Political observers here have little trouble in matching Humphrey's defiance with the Chicago huddle.

OUT?
Humphrey of course has based his battle to stick to the government payroll on the ground that the Federal Trade Commission is an independent and semi-judicial body accountable to Congress rather than the White House. Only cause, he has said, justifies his forcible removal.

This probably means that George C. Matthews, the LaFollette Republican from Wisconsin who has been designated to succeed him, will serve without pay until such time as the Senate passes on his nomination.

Administration forces are counting on straight Democratic backing plus the Republican Progressives to confirm Matthews. If they do, Humphrey is out by three strikes, the umpire's decision and the bat boy's personal opinion.

DEEP STUFF
Other things than the Federal Trade Commissionship apparently were discussed at that Chicago meeting.

Pat Hurley, it will be remembered, recently took to the air with a boost for Mr. Roosevelt's NRA—the first and only member of the late Republican Cabinet to do so.

The former Secretary of War said at the time he had been urged to make the speech by his old friend, General Johnson, as a fine non-partisan gesture. Some of his political opponents have been mean enough to hint he engineered the address to put himself back in the limelight because he has designs on the Senatorial seat now held by the blind Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma.

Anyway the wire-tappers report that Pat called Palo Alto on the long distance phone and asked his erstwhile Chief how about it before he finally signed up for the speech.

WHOSE BABY?
And then he went to Chicago. Circumstantial evidence indicates that the NRA speech was discussed there. At any rate he saw Mr. Hoover.

When the final draft was delivered to NRA for mimeographing and distribution it lauded the Blue Eagle all right and called for public support.

It also inferred that all of the emergency recovery measures now in effect had their inception back in the Hoover administration and suggested that the public had criticized the former President too harshly.

NOTES
A section of the southern bituminous coal fields under the code is to be policed by the NRA. . . It is to be hoped the Bureau doesn't get to be called by its initials—SCAB. . . The New Deal has extended to the Senate Restaurant. . . When the 56 boy orators get back here in January they will find their own private eating place renovated to a point where food will be warmer—and perhaps—even—served quicker.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

DIRECTORS
The directors of the New York banks declined to be dumfries—and how!

That's why the arrangement between Jesse Jones and the bank executives to add to local bank capital as a shining example to the rest of the country went blowy at the last minute. All the officers could promise was to recommend action on the Jones plan to their directors. Most of the directors responded with a polite but forcible version of the Bronx cheer.

So the engine of the increased capital train is stalled in a snow drift of conservative disapproval again and it will take plenty of Washington heat to get it moving.

WHY
There were four reasons why the directors turned on the ice. First was the ingrained impression in Wall Street circles that

Do You Realize
—that a clean, healthy mouth is an assurance of continued good health? An abscessed tooth can play havoc with your health. Don't wait for a toothache before coming to your dentist. That is the last stage. It costs nothing to have your teeth examined. All work your teeth guaranteed—So why delay?

the plan is a phoney. "Why raise capital we don't need and can't use just to kid other banks and public along?"

Second was the anticipated difficulty of explaining to bank stockholders how come it was necessary to create a prior lien against earnings when the vaults are choked with liquid assets. The good old days when a bank head could offer his report to a stockholder's meeting with calm assurance that it would be respectfully approved are gone. Nowadays the stockholders are only too apt to ask awkward questions and directors aren't providing them with any new questions to ask.

Third was the sudden discovery that the plan of the stronger banks to exchange capital notes with each other was "unethical." Many directors thought it too transparent a device to evade the government's real intent.

Fourth was the unwillingness of any local bank to act unless it was sure all the others were going to do the same thing and the constitutional inability of any two New York institutions to agree on either what or how. Some of the banks have been calling each other harsher names than they called Mr. Jones.

WHAT NEXT?
Now a group of New York bankers has gone to explain these woes to Washington and ask that the whole show be called off. The united Clearing House action that the government hoped for is as likely as a world's championship for the Boston Red Sox. A few banks may work with the R. F. C. on their own but even this is doubtful.

The trouble is that pressure can be—and was applied with fair success to bank officers. But they can always fall back on their directors who are harder to reach and convince as a group. So it looks as if Washington will have to think up something new or conduct the party without New York's aid.

EXILE
Local political insiders will tell you that Tammany Napoleons, Curry and McCooey, are headed for Elba and even for St. Helena.

Nobody wants to ride on a bandwagon with four flat tires. The City democracy will be reorganized with McKee and Flynn in charge. The old-timers would rather have a half-loaf with McKee than nothing at all.

This means that Brooklyn or the Bronx will ride in the driver's seat. Manhattan's traditional leadership, through Tammany, will be thoroughly smashed. This island will drop to its place as a deflated borough.

The stampede to the new bandwagon has now assumed proportions where even the faithful concede O'Brien has no chance to win. Key men expect him to finish a poor third.

The administration Democrats didn't plot the overthrow but the opportunity was handed to them on a silver platter. They could see no point in passing it up.

ORIGINS
The inside defection started when Al Smith made a public speech last summer which cast doubt on the possibility of O'Brien's re-election. This inspired a big whispering campaign which the leaders found it impossible to stop.

Then came the primaries and the shock. The district leaders counted on last year's landslide and did little work—with little money. Even the policemen and firemen walked out on the bosses to vote for Frial and their loyalty to the organization had been guaranteed by their political leaders.

Meanwhile McCooey and others had given letters to countless job applicants who got no action. There was plenty of resentment among disappointed job-seekers, their families and friends. The breach in the wall was bigger than anyone thought.

The real tip-off came when Frank J. Quayle, Jr., regular candidate for Sheriff of Brooklyn, deserted to McKee. That was the writing on the wall to insiders. The Sheriff has the most important patronage office in the county.

MISTAKES
Tammany's selection of George McCann as temporary Comptroller was a bad mistake and that of Sam Untermyer to dictate financial policy was worse. The aim was to instill confidence in the public. Instead the shots were taken as evidence of weakness and bred panic in the hearts of the faithful. By the same token they encouraged insurgents in the ranks to step out and assert themselves.

S. O. S.
Radio manufacturers pulled a victory out of the fire from the British Government which had banned radios from the Olympia Automobile Show, on the ground that radios might be overly diverting on the road. Statistics were brought to bear on troubled minds. Promptly radios were permitted, when built into the car and demonstrated as an essential part of the machine. They were still barred from the accessories section of the show.

Radio manufacturers were pacified and the government felt that it still had its face.

Late News From Fullerton And Vicinity

CARDINALS OF WHITTIER BEAT INDIANS, 26-0

FULLERTON, Oct. 13.—Fullerton Union High school lightweight team was overwhelmed, 26 to 0, by Don Cole's fighting Whittier High School Cardinals here yesterday afternoon before several hundred spectators.

Long end runs by Ed McKinney, Gene Weisner and Frank Tractor in the first half accounted for the Cardinals' impressive score, while the Whittier forwards displayed a defensive exhibition that kept the Fullerton backs helpless throughout the contest.

Yardage figures showed that Whittier deserved its victory. The Cardinals made eight first downs and 263 yards from scrimmage and 10 yards from passing. Fullerton made two first downs and 23 yards from scrimmage and 25 yards from passing. Whittier was penalized 25 yards.

Fullerton will play Anaheim here Monday afternoon. The lineups:

RALLY STAGED BY SCHOOL STUDENTS

FULLERTON, Oct. 13.—A pep rally was staged by Fullerton Union High school students in the new auditorium yesterday afternoon for the football games yesterday and today with Whittier.

Don Cruikshank, coach of the varsity, urged the students to support the teams during the games. Capt. Jim Jewett of the varsity string also gave a short talk.

Yells and songs led by Jimmy Henry, yell leader, and the song leaders were practiced.

The band, under the direction of Dudley Nashold, played several numbers.

The Register welcomes news and Fullerton residents are urged to telephone or bring their items to the branch office, located at 246 West Commonwealth avenue. The phone number is Fullerton 615W.

Negro Youth Is Given Probation On Auto Charge

FULLERTON, Oct. 13.—Robert Berkley, Fullerton Negro youth, charged with driving an automobile without permission of the owner, will be placed on 11 months' probation. It was announced yesterday.

This action was taken by Judge H. I. Spence when the charge was changed from one of grand theft to one of driving a car without permission, which is a misdemeanor. If Berkley becomes involved with the law during the probationary period, he will be taken to jail for 30 days.

ARNOLD INTERF PRESIDENT OF GERMAN CLUB

FULLERTON, Oct. 13.—Arnold Interf was elected president of the Fullerton District Junior college German club at its first meeting of the year at the home of Beryl Schlegelhauff, 114 North Cypress, La Habra, Wednesday night.

Bernice Johnston was elected vice president and program chairman; Nina May Miller, secretary; Wilbur Scott, treasurer; sergeant-at-arms, Robert McCormick; the social committee, Berta St. Pierre and James Baker; and the membership committee, Alma Clark, Alton Zenk, and Schlegelhauff.

Preceding the election, Miss St. Pierre, Miss Miller, Harold Leitch, McCormick and Schlegelhauff were initiated.

During the business meeting plans were discussed for the coming year. At the close of the evening, the group sang some German folk songs. Fifteen members and the advisor, Miss Martha Ehlert, of the club attended.

Students wishing to become members this semester must make application to the membership committee within the next two weeks and they will be initiated at the next meeting, which will be on November 8.

A pot luck supper was served at the beginning of the evening.

"Y" REPORTS GIVEN

FULLERTON, Oct. 13.—Members of the Northern Orange County Y. M. C. A. Wednesday spent their time in discussion of the problems to be before the biennial conference in the spring of 1934 in Philadelphia, in a meeting at the headquarters in the Chapman building, here. In addition, reports of the summer and plans for the fall were given.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS NATURE STUDY LEADER

FULLERTON, Oct. 13.—Using as a setting for their program the beautiful Isak Walton log cabin in Hillcrest park, members of Fullerton Woman's club were hostesses Thursday to 50 guests at a reciprocal tea, where Mrs. Edwin E. Fuller of Inglewood, state chairman of nature study, was the guest speaker.

The rooms were decorated in the rich shades of fall and added to the beautiful bouquets of zinnias and dahlias was a tea table, covered with a rich blue "coverlid" and centered by a bouquet of yellow flowers, with yellow tapers adding to the color scheme.

Among the special guests were Mrs. Agnes Purnell, secretary of the Federated Women's clubs of California; Mrs. Bonebrake, president of the county federation, Mrs. Fuller and her guests. Mrs. Beemer of the Inglewood Woman's club, Mrs. Tompkins, president of the Inglewood club, and Mrs. Barnard of Inglewood; Mrs. Clarissa Sotry Coltrin, Mrs. S. W. Windle of Fullerton and Mrs. Henry Warren of Buena Park, county chairmen.

In taking as her subject "Nature's Ten Most Beautiful Words," Mrs. Fuller stressed "home, birth, growth, motion, sense of smell, sense of sound, color, sense of touch, craft and names of creatures."

She enlarged on the subject, showing how the home and home building instinct leads to such rich variety in nature, as do all those other natural trails, while names of creatures alone, all based on the Latin, like botanical names, call for a continued study of the Latin language.

She paid high tribute to the Isak Walton log cabin, to the club in Hillcrest park, and to the work of the league, and further urged that people carry a microscope, or a magnifying glass, when in the woods, rather than a gun, to learn to appreciate nature.

After the talk and the musical program, presented by Mrs. William Montague, who sang "The Hills of Home" and "Memories," accompanied by Mrs. Harold Nealson, the guests were served tea and wafers, with Mrs. S. W. Windle and Mrs. Ray E. Green pouring.

Mrs. S. W. Douglas introduced the program numbers. Mrs. Jeanie M. Daniels, president, and Mrs. Green and Mrs. Windle received the guests at the door. Mrs. A. H. Koch, Mrs. J. M. Alcorn, Mrs. George W. Sherwood, Mrs. Lloyd Fuller, Mrs. V. A. Porter, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Harold Gohar and Mrs. Lynch were hostesses committee women.

Following tea, a short social period was enjoyed.

SPEAKER IN WARNING AGAINST DICTATORSHIP IF NRA FAILS; CO-OPERATION DECLARED VITAL

FULLERTON, Oct. 13.—The NRA has put one great power behind it, that of public opinion, and the success or failure of the plan of President Roosevelt depends on the public-spirited citizenry of the country, Franklin Lowney, head of the speakers' bureau of the Southern California NRA, said last night when he was principal speaker at the forum held under Charles Ruby, teacher of law, in Fullerton Union High school auditorium.

He sounded a warning when he said, "Unless NRA is enforced, we may have to submit to a dictatorship, such as Germany has, and similar to the dictatorship that now is established over two-thirds of the so-called civilized countries."

"If the present plan should fail suddenly, there would be immediate chaos, and military dictatorship would be established as a means out. The way the president has pointed is a new deal, and a square deal for everybody."

In warning against dictatorship, or Fascism, he said there are 60,000 "gray shirts" in Los Angeles.

"I do not believe the red-blooded people of America will stand for dictatorship, but if it is backed by the industrialists, at the expense of the people, as it was in Italy and in Germany, and the people continue apathetic, dictatorship will come," he said.

"The two great forces combating the success of the NRA are big business, greedy and selfish, and an apathetic people. The administration has recognized that previously, government was subservient to business, and now has established a ruling the business must be subservient to government. In the past, and continuing, great business makes demands on Washington through well equipped and organized established lobbies. The NRA invites co-operation for the establishment of rights of people."

He declared that the trend had started upward with the new NRA movement. He also said that because of the beginning of success, Wall Street and international bankers are doing all they can to restrain success.

"We have as much to say now as the banks and Wall Street, who have been governing the country for the past 50 years," Lowney said. "This new deal is not for organized labor alone; it is for all people of America and it is for the people to see that it is enforced. Economic justice can be established only with the backing of every person."

He urged the people report infringements of the code; he further urged that all persons trade with merchants who are living up to the code, and demand enforcement.

He appealed to youth that the present opportunity for organization with the establishment of economic justice, offers more romance than war, and the future success depends on that co-operation.

Dr. William Wickett introduced the speaker and opened the meeting for discussion following the talk. Questions included one by a student, "What hold has the NRA on Wall Street?" which the speaker answered by saying, "I will not sidestep; we are not all satisfied with the extent of the work, but are satisfied that the President and General Johnson will push this program as far as the

TELLS CHANGE IN ATTITUDE OF GOOD CITIZEN

FULLERTON, Oct. 13.—In the days just past, the good and successful citizen helped himself; now, under the new psychology of success, the good and successful citizen works for the good of society, Mrs. Florence Summers, Newport Beach, told members of the Maple Avenue Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon at the opening session.

Mrs. Summers talked on "Character, Culture and Citizenship" and brought out the phases of change in the attitude of the good citizen after summarizing the new ideas of character, which she said is the sum of personal actions of an individual to all phases of life, while character she designated as a preparation of mind and soul for good character and good citizenship.

"The good citizen is loyal to all people all the time," she said, "and he will not dodge issues, but will study the causes that lie behind such conditions as wars, financial slumps, and will then work to give all peoples physical and economic security. The good citizen will strive to remove the economic cause of the present slump."

She summarized her attitude toward the government as "The NRA sets up the means whereby society may bring back the real meaning of the constitution. Democracy has not failed; we, the citizens, have failed democracy, and we must get back to the constitution of our country and read into it the good it has there, and apply that to the country."

Mrs. Summers was presented by Mrs. J. O. Rayne, program chairman, who also introduced Mrs. H. V. Doss, who presented piano solos.

Mrs. Clyde Dorn presided at the business session. She presented Mrs. Helen Smith, instructor of third grade and principal of the school who in turn introduced her teachers, Miss Augusta Ball, sixth grade, and Miss Lois Shell, fifth grade, both new to the school, and Miss Elsie Moore, fourth grade, Miss Grace Blackstone, second grade, Miss Nonette Deveron, kindergarten, and Miss Mercie Clifford, first grade.

Mrs. Dorn announced the motto for the year as "Co-operation" and the slogan, "Membership One Hundred Percent." Discussion of the provision of food for the children who are undernourished was discussed and with final action left

EXPECT CROWD WHEN COLLEGE TEAMS CLASH

FULLERTON, Oct. 13.—Opening the 1935 Eastern division junior college conference football season, Arthur L. Nunn will send his Fullerton District Junior college Yellowjackets against Arthur F. Schaefer's San Bernardino Valley Indians here tomorrow at 2:15 p. m. A large crowd is expected.

Nunn's team is not at its best shape, with Don Dofler, guard, giving blood transfusions; Elmer "the Great" Pryor, quarterback, nursing a "charley horse," and Heba Player, fullback, out with an injured neck.

Art Schaefer not only has developed a powerful running attack, with Bob Schletzer, inside half, featured, but has a potent aerial attack with Schletzer tossing them all over the field. Schaefer will present a modification of the 12-to-6 night game at San Bernardino last season. They are Herb Grimm and Ralph Zwolsman, ends; Durland, center; Dofler, guard; Carl English, half, and Pryor, quarter.

The probable starting line-ups: Fullerton: Zwolesman, REL, Shaw, RLB, Durland (C), Dozier, LTR, Grimm, LER, Pryor, Q, English, RHB, Smith, LHB, Schletzer, Player, F.

San Bernardino: Zwolesman, REL, Shaw, RLB, Durland (C), Dozier, LTR, Grimm, LER, Pryor, Q, English, RHB, Smith, LHB, Schletzer, Player, F.

Member Campaign Reports Given At P. T. A. Gathering

FULLERTON, Oct. 13.—Mrs. C. W. Hart, president of the Whittier Parent-Teacher association, yesterday noon entertained the members of her membership drive committee at a tea at her home, where the time was spent at reporting on results. Mrs. William Fowler assisted Mrs. Hart.

Because of illness, Mrs. Martin Bullis was unable to attend and Mrs. Fowler took her place. The plan of membership drive originated with Mrs. Bullis.

Attending were Mrs. Harold Hever, Mrs. Carl Johnson, Mrs. R. Scofield, Mrs. W. F. Holbrook, Mrs. Q. W. Freek, Mrs. M. E. Ganong, Mrs. Clarence Vanderburg, Mrs. Ernest Von Gruenigen, Mrs. H. W. Otis and Mrs. O. Glen Evans.

Welfare Head To Speak At Chamber Session Oct. 19

FULLERTON, Oct. 13.—With a variety of welfare problems up for consideration, the chamber of commerce directors have decided to invite Byron Curry, county welfare director, to attend the regular meeting next Thursday noon at McFarland's cafe.

President Tom Eadington plans to appoint a special committee to investigate the grocery order plan suggested to the directors by Fred H. Stever, local real estate man. Action on the plan will await the conference with Curry.

Sportsmen are using kites that soar and dip like birds to train their dogs to retrieve fallen game.

By VERA RAMSEY

Many are the stories contained in a zoo. From the dark jungles of Africa and India, from the frozen seas of the Arctic, from equatorial riverways and burning deserts, from Asiatic mountains, the Siberian tundra and the hinterlands of Australia, from the islands of the South Pacific, the waters of tropic seas and forest of the East Indies, London's zoological garden has brought together a huge family of wild beasts, exotic birds, fish, reptiles and insects. In "London Zoo," Gertrude Gleason tells how these creatures are captured, how they are brought thousands of miles to the zoo and how they live there.

In a veritable panorama of natural history we see the lives of creatures of all kinds. We read of their odd habits, their fits of temperament, their maladies, their feats of prowess, even their romances and emotional problems. Here are nature's dramas, comedies, sports and domestic idylls, its beauties, its monstrosities and its horrors. If you like excitement you will find it in the stories of the lions, the tigers, the poisonous reptiles, and the other deadly creatures of the zoo. If you like humor and slap-stick comedy, you will enjoy the absurd escapades of John Daniel, the gorilla, who became a movie star. You will chuckle as you follow the romance of Peter and Dorothy Chimpanzee. You will be delighted with the comedians in the bear house and with the solemn mimicry of the amorous crane pre-empting and bowing before his lady love. As a matter of fact there is amusement nearly everywhere, even in the aquarium and the insect house.

If you are curious about natural history and the habits of wild creatures everywhere this book will prove a mine of information. "London Zoo" is in short a holiday, a trip to the remotest jungles, an adventure with scientists and explorers, and an exciting encounter with all the most colorful personalities among the wild animals of the world.

The name of John Moody is well known particularly to business men. He is the founder of "Moody's Manual of Investments," president of Moody's Investor's Service, and is the author of many books about finance. These things are known, but not so much of the more personal side of his life. In "The Long Road Home" John Moody, the internationally known financial writer and publisher, tells the story of his own interesting life. He writes of the youthful struggles in this work-a-day world, his business adventures, his enthusiasms in politics and reform.

An important feature of the book is that concerning the author's religious experiences. An orthodox Christian as a boy, he drifted into practical agnosticism during early manhood. For many years he was an ardent devotee of modern pragmatic thought. Later experiences brought about a new intellectual and spiritual awakening. He discovered St. Thomas Aquinas, which brought him back to the Faith of his early forefathers, where he has found the "inestimable blessing of perfect peace."

The book is more than an autobiography. It contains the mature reflections of a well known business man, one of the country's leading financial authorities, on a variety of subjects of vital human interest. It leaves the reader with an intimate picture of a period in American life as seen through the eyes of a man who, while in the midst of the great industrial and financial expansion of our country, found time to give thoughtful consideration to the spiritual and cultural elements of our civilization.

The novel is by far the most influential literary form of modern times. Especially is this true in the United States; Americans live largely by the novel. Joseph Warren Beach is an ardent student and critic of the form. In "The Twentieth Century Novel" he writes with insight and clarity of this great form of literary writing.

"The Twentieth Century Novel" shows us the background for the movements of today. It begins with the evolution of the form on the continent and in England and the United States since 1900. Mr.

Beach goes back to and beyond Henry James for his point of departure and in the course of his book he has many things to say of the novel during the older period from Richardson to James.

What is very important to many readers is that he discusses many contemporary novelists. The work of such authors as James Joyce, William Faulkner and Joe Dos Passos are rather generally misunderstood by a large class of readers. These authors and others, such as Hemingway, W. R. Burnett, Morley Callaghan and Erskine Caldwell are interpreted as to their aims and what they have accomplished.

This book should appeal not only to the literary student and worker, to whom it may well be a sort of glorious textbook, but also to the keen general reader who heightens his enjoyment of books by going behind the scenes with the authors and trying to understand how they achieve their effects.

AN OPEN LETTER

Boy, stick a special delivery stamp on this letter, and rush it over to the post office:

G. A. Oliver, Care University of Arizona,
Tucson, Arizona.

Dear "Tex": Dispatches say you are kicking for Arizona a place on Southern California's 1934 football schedule, and quote you as stating that Arizona would go into such a game to win, not merely to hold down the score.

Now, Tex, I have an unlimited respect for your coaching ability, and eventually I think you'll be back of the guns at U. C. L. A. or Stanford or California, where you ought to be now, but I'll have to second-guess you on a Trojan-Arizona contest. Frankly, old boy, I'm afraid your material at Arizona just couldn't cope with that at S. C.—now or any other time—and I fear that one of those 40-0 defeats, honorable as it might be, would do you and your team a grand total of no good. Personally, it would set you back about three years.

Take on the Bruins or even Stanford. Or better yet, schedule Hawaii and the University of Mexico, as you confided you might that evening at dinner. But let's lay off those Trojans; at least right now. They're just too good. Tex, that's all. Never be a "breather!"

With kindest regards, EDDIE.

P. S. Everybody here is pulling for you to take Texas Tech tomorrow night for they know that would clinch public opinion in your favor down there, Tech being your BIG game.

More hunches:

Santa Ana to surprise Pasadena, 12-7. . . The Dons to beat those U. C. L. A. freshmen tonight by two touchdowns. . . U. S. C. over St. Mary's by three touchdowns, all in the second half. . . Stanford and Northwestern to play a scoreless tie.

Cuttin' it short:

Al Rebohn has been promoted to second string left half at S. C., his conscientious blocking having impressed Howard Jones and Co. . . Maurice Van Vleet, the one-man football team at Citrus jaycee for the past two years, poses up as another Warburton at Oregon U. . . Harry Blee of Santa Ana is No. 1 right half for the Oxy freshman. . . Bill and Bob Spurgeon, ex-Saints, are playing regularly for the Pomona frosh. Bill in the backfield, Bob at end.

. . . Riverside jaycee's line is almost as big as Troy's. The line forwards are Redfern, 195, and Garth, 165, ends; Guthrie, 210, and Hastings, 205, tackles; Moore, 185, and Nielson, 215, guards, and Rogers, 200, center. . . Jim Musick is right in there among the best-gaining backs in pro football. His teammate with the Boston Redskins, Cliff Battles, is far ahead with 412 yards. Big Jim, Harry Newman and Joe Lillard are deadlocked for second place with 180 apiece. . . Davis Walsh, whose syndicated stories appear almost daily on The Register's sport page does what competent critics call the best "literature writing" in U. S. sport-dom. Study his style some time.

Reporters have been bruited about that Pasadena decided to play Santa Ana Hi Saturday, rather than Friday, after making an exhaustive study of records which revealed that Santa Ana had never lost a football game on Friday, the 13th.

That smelted like a story until I browsed through my records and learned that Santa Ana hasn't even played on Friday the 13th for the past ten years.

Poor old baseball!

Further reductions in Santa Ana's junior college budget may result in abolition of the so-called "national sport" here next Spring.

Local Boy Makes Good? Well, listen to Santa Clara's "Clipper" Smith:

"Although we haven't the greatest line on the Pacific Coast, we have fair forwards and wide receivers. Blower hits harder than Angel Brovelli! It made me do some thinking about the future of the Golden Bear team.

"After the Stanford-Santa Clara game, I asked our players, 'How does Blower compare with Grayson in driving power?' Our players replied, 'They're about equal!' In explaining this, Joe Paglia said, 'Blower slides off your arms as he hits and gets an extra yard. Grayson gives you everything he has straight ahead. I think Blower has better control of his legs as he comes through. Of course, he's a left half-back and is running plays that let him go for greater yardage. If I had a team—I'd like to have both of them!'"

COAST LEAGUE SCHOOLS BEGIN 'NEW SEASON'

Santa Ana Hi goes to Pasadena tomorrow to inaugurate the eleventh annual Coast Preparatory league football campaign.

The Saints haven't lost a conference game since 1930, and haven't been beaten by Pasadena since 1926, but the defending champions start the "new season" with everything against them except what advantage there may be in psychology. Pasadena is popularly supposed to defeat Santa Ana by at least one, and maybe three or four, touchdowns—a usual situation indeed for a school that only recently compiled a 26-game winning streak.

Preceded by a Class B contest at 1 o'clock, the varsity eleven will collide at 2:30 at Pasadena High school field.

Pasadena's comfortable victories over Ventura, Lincoln, South Pasadena and Cathedral—while the Saints were losing to Santa Barbara and Covina—have made the Bulldogs heavy favorites, scant consideration being given to the fact that Santa Ana's defeats were to teams that always rank with the strongest in Southern California, and probably could win from Pasadena, too.

Close observers of Coach Bill Foote's team believe the Saints are ready for their best game of the season, after two admittedly mediocre efforts, and that they have an even chance to win what naturally figures to be a tight contest. Foote's linemen, especially such players as Ford Underwood, all-league guard; "Big Boy" Williams, a real tackle, when he gets tied up to his work, and money Myron Newton at end, should not be moved around much, and the Saint backs, particularly the hard-hitting Art Stranske, should not suffer much in comparison with Pasadena's starting foursome.

Foote was still undecided today whether to start Waldo Smith or Leroy Levens at quarter, and Dave Webb or Al Halderman at center. Smith and Webb were expected to get the call, however. Santa Ana's chief weakness against Covina was at quarter and left end, but Foote believes defects at the positions have been overcome.

The Saint squad leaves here by bus at 12 o'clock.

Probable starting line-ups:

Santa Ana Wt. Pos. Wt. Pasadena
No. 1 (171) RE (170) . . . Thomas
Roemer (163) RT (193) . . . Romick
Webb (172) RT (172) . . . Kuhn
Webb (160) C (172) . . . Martin
Underwood (173) LG (174) . . . Wegge
Williams (181) L (175) . . . Nolin
Davis (170) LE (174) . . . Nash
Smith (148) Q (159) . . . Acquarile
Hales (150) RH (182) . . . Layne
Stranske (176) F (180) . . . Cotton

SAINT, PASADENA "BEES" RAISE CURTAIN

Directed by a new coach, Clyde Cook, Santa Ana high school's Class B football team mixes with the Pasadena middleweights in a 1 o'clock preliminary to the Saint-Bulldog varsity encounter at Pasadena tomorrow.

The Saint Bees, 50 strong, have engaged in three practice games and two informal scrimmages with Frances Willard junior high, and have developed a fair offensive around Hamill, quarter; Boyle and Hilligas, halfbacks; McCulloch, full; Amuseus and Young, ends; Crowther and Moore, tackles; Kendall and McInteer, guards, and Patmore, center. Cook plans to start this lineup against Pasadena.

Santa Ana held Huntington Beach to a scoreless tie, but lost to Orange 7-0 and Anaheim 7-0.

After he discovers what his first string can do, Coach Cook will run in his substitutions in the following order:

Ends—Warren, Beall, Nisley, Roland Morris, Kennedy and Baird; Tackles—Denton, Jones, Goode, Davison, Brown, Moore, Rice, Means, Barney, Guards—Hendins, Graves, Arviso, Eaton, Handy, Castro, Collins, Nowotny, Centers—Richards, Dunn, K. Brown, O'Camp, Quarterbacks—Patton, Clark, Bilderbach, Halfbacks—Beard, Davenport, Miller, Reyes, Tucker, Boyle, Miller, Jesse, Parnell, Fullbacks—Arviso, Asworth, Mercurio and Santos.

DOES THE TRICK Dutch Stanley, Florida grid coach, has started giving his players an hour and a half of work out from the time the last player arrives on the field. Practice is called for 5 p. m., but if a stranger arrives at 5:30, practice quits a half-hour late. This eliminates tardy arrivals.

WORRIED

That 0-0 tie that the Kansas Jayhawkers pulled on Notre Dame, had "Hunk" Anderson plenty worried. The Ramblers, figured to be the best team Anderson has handled, could get nowhere. "Hunk" sat on the sidelines and sprouted gray hairs as each Irish threat failed. Maybe the Irish can do better tomorrow against Indiana.

CARDS IN LAST WORKOUT, TEST SOLDIER FIELD

Radio KHJ will broadcast the Stanford-Northwestern game, beginning at 11:45 a. m., coast time.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Stanford university football players had their first inside view of Soldier field today when Coach "Tim" Thornhill put them through a brief workout on the gridiron where they meet Northwestern Saturday.

In previous practices, the visiting football squad worked out at Stags field.

A crowd of 40,000 is expected to see the Indians and the Northwestern eleven clash. The last-minute ticket sale was reported brisk.

Thornhill announced today he probably would start Bobby Grayson, sophomore star, at fullback. Frank Alustiza will be held in reserve for emergencies when a quick and a long kick are needed.

Stanford's probable lineup included: Ends, Norgard and Moscrip; tackles, Reynolds and Callaway; guards, Corbus and O'Connor; center, Bates; quarterback, Sim; halfbacks, Maentz and Aillerbaugh; fullback, Grayson.

Coach Dick Hanley indicated the Northwestern probably will line up as follows: Ends, Manske and Jones; tackles, Chambers and Copeccky; guards, Whalen and Kuval; center, Haek; quarterback, Olson; halfbacks, Leeper and Cruise; fullback, Duval.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Occidental breaks into Southern California conference play tonight in a game with Redlands that is expected to develop a shower of fireworks.

With one conference victory already in the bag, Coach Cecil Cushman of Redlands hoped to make it two by handing the Tigers their third straight setback. Occidental in non-conference play lost to U. S. C. and Arizona but is expected to put up a more stubborn fight against the Bulldogs. The contest is scheduled at Redlands.

Two other conference games are slated under arc lights tonight. Whittier with a single tie game was expected to present Santa Barbara its second conference defeat on the latter's home soil. La Verne with a conference win is favored to keep its record intact by defeating Caltech on the former's home field. Caltech lost its first conference start.

Pomona strikes out in conference play tomorrow night, meeting San Diego State at San Diego.

GRIDDERS HAVE TWO SUITS Northwestern university's football squad will have two uniforms, one for home use and one for road use. The home unies will have white jerseys and maroon helmets, and the suits used on trips will have maroon jerseys and white helmets.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Olympic auditorium promoters today were negotiating for an outdoor fight here possibly next month between Jack Sharkey, former world's heavyweight champion, and Steve Hamas, Passaic, N. J., collegian who knocked out Bennie Miller here Wednesday.

Hamas, who left last night for his home, expressed willingness to battle Sharkey, who, despite recent reverses, would be a drawing card here, promoters believed.

GIANTS TO BE SOLD; WALKER MAY BE PREXY

BY PAT ROBINSON
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(INS)—The New York Giants, champions of the baseball world, will not only be sold, as stated exclusively by the International News Service several weeks ago, but the sale is slated to be consummated within two weeks.

One of three groups interested in the purchase of the club has accountants working on the club books this week.

One group is a syndicate headed by A. C. Blumenthal, theatrical producer.

Another is two of three millionaires who actually had the club bought last April when one of the three died as they were about to sign the papers. The survivors are trying to find a third friend to take their dead partner's place.

Jock Whitney interested The third prospective purchaser is Jock Whitney, multi-millionaire sportsman of turf fame.

The best bid so far made for 74 per cent of the stock of the club is Whitney's $1,900,000.

This 74 per cent includes the 52 per cent of the total stock now owned by Charles Stoneham and the holdings of John J. McGraw and Judge Francis X. McQuade.

These three have an iron-clad contract whereby no one may sell his interest without the consent of the other two. Heretofore this was considered an insurmountable stumbling block to sale of the club because these men have at various times shown themselves to be about as friendly as a mongoose and a cobra. But this difficulty has been ironed out and neither McQuade nor McGraw has been unreasonable in the price asked for their stock.

Walker May Be Prexy If the Blumenthal interests get the club, McGraw will retain his holdings and James J. Walker, former mayor of New York, will become president. Walker's nephew, a son of Dr. William Walker, examining physician for the state athletic commission, was instrumental in bringing together Blumenthal and Stoneham.

Stoneham, who never admits the sun is shining unless forced to do so, denies the club is for sale, but he did the same thing even after he had the contract for the sale all drawn up last April. He told one of the negotiators last week he wanted no publicity until the deal was finished.

The club has still about 20 years to run on the Polo Grounds lease. The stadium is one of the best in the world and the club's good will is carried on the books at only $1.

Giants Have Valuable Park The Giants have made little money in recent years but in good times dividends have run as high as 40 per cent annually.

Prospective buyers are not overlooking the value of the Polo Grounds as a place for football and prize fights. It was the scene of the Dempsey-Firpo fight, witnessed by nearly 90,000, and it can hold about 70,000 for football.

Nor are they blind to the probability that one day the New York Yankees may be forced to return to the Polo Grounds where they played all their games several years ago.

MORAGA GAELS REACH L. A. FOR TROJAN TUSSE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Colorful St. Mary's "marauding" men of Moraga, took principal Pacific Coast football interest with them today when they invaded Los Angeles for a clash Saturday with the U. S. C. Trojans, unbeaten since St. Mary's last invasion two years ago.

The Gaels, headed by Coach Edward ("Slip") Madigan, arrived here this morning. Of the 44 Irish who made the trip, only John Yezeraki, giant tackle, is not in condition to start. The Gaels planned a workout in Memorial Coliseum this afternoon.

Eight thousand fans followed the Moragans Southward for a titanic battle between two gridiron mastodons, each with lines averaging more than 200 pounds a man.

One other coastal contest offered more than ordinary entertainment on Saturday's card. Up at Seattle, the University of Washington meets Oregon. For five years Washington has done to defeat before their rivals from the South without scoring a point. Injury to Suklosky, hard-hitting back, hurt the chances of the Huskies. Oregon also reported injured stars.

Santa Clara college, conquerors of California, return to the football wars Sunday at San Diego where they meet the Marines. Although Coach Maurice Smith dismissed two strong players for insubordination, the Broncos ought to win in a walk.

Among the so-called "minor" teams the meeting between A. A. Sigg's College of Pacific team and San Jose State promised much action.

PITTSBURGH GIVEN EDGE AGAINST NAVY

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—(UP)—For the first time in gridiron history, Navy football players today roamed the environs of Pittsburgh awaiting tomorrow's meeting with Jock Sutherland's Pitt Panthers in the week's most important Eastern clash.

"Rip" Miller's landing party is heralded as the strongest Navy squad in years. It would occasion no great surprise to see the future admirals skin the Panthers in their own backyard, although most of the experts give Pittsburgh a slight edge because of weight advantage in the line and backfield.

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex., Oct. 13.—(INS)—The Agua Caliente winter racing meet will open Sunday December 24 and close Sunday March 18, climaxing with the Agua Caliente Handicap, value $25,000 added, President Joseph M. Schenck announced today.

Garcia, Tut Meet For State Crown

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Cefarino Garcia places his state welterweight crown at stake tonight when he shoots his punches at King Tut, Minneapolis veteran, in the Hollywood Legion stadium ring.

The title battle is scheduled over the 10-round route.

Loyola Gets Test Against Nevadans

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—(UP)—The rugged forward wall of the Loyola football team faces a stiff test tonight when the University of Nevada invades Wrigley field.

Coach Tom Lieb of Loyola, pointing for the U. C. L. A. contest next Saturday, reported his squad in good condition.

STARS ON GRID, TOO Walter Marty, world champion high jumper, is starring on the football field this year from the Fresno State Teachers' college. He is a half.

GAME GAINS POPULARITY A recent night baseball game between the Waseda varsity and the school's freshman squad drew 39,000 Japanese spectators.

EXTRA-INNING VICTORS The Cleveland Indians played 500 ball in extra-inning tilts this year.

Parading under arc lights in what perhaps will be their final after-dinner football appearance here, Santa Ana's undefeated Dons clash with the polished U. C. L. A. freshmen at 8 o'clock tonight at the Municipal Bowl.

Comparative records point to an evenly matched contest, although those who saw the Westwood Babes against Riverside's powerful jaycee squad last week are stringing with the freshmen. The Dons are in a fine competitive mood after a week of strenuous drill, however, and anxious to keep their seasonal record clear by upsetting the favored university team.

Injuries will hold back two or three regulars on each squad, but neither college will be handicapped by lack of reserve strength. Jack Fredericks, guard; Jimmie Lash, end, and Ted Needham, fullback, will be out of the Santa Ana lineup with a cracked rib, sprained shoulder and injured leg, respectively, while two of U. C. L. A.'s best men—Tackle George Dickerson and Halfback Fred Funk—may not be able to play on account of leg injuries.

Cook Rearranges Backfield

An entirely new backfield, one which Coach Bill Cook believes he will employ against conference opponents, will represent the Dons tonight.

"Porky" Bell, Don speed demon, will be transferred from his temporary post at fullback to inside half, and Clair Preininger, an impressive blocker, will be stationed at right half. Wilburn Anderson, regular half, goes to fullback, and the veteran Harold Velly to quarter. When Harry McInteer, regular inside half, enters the game, Bell will be switched to Velly's safety position.

Ray Hapes, who deserted the squad Monday with plans to enter the University of Mississippi, rejoined the Dons yesterday. The Garden Grove quarterback, one of the fastest men on the squad, will see considerable action against U. C. L. A. Other Santa Ana backs who will break into the line-up are Bob Mitchell, "Tex" Bowden, Bill McDaniel and perhaps Bob Phipps and Junior Hurley.

Cook stated that his probable starting line would contain Ben Slavin and Paul Perinich at end; Capt. "Bomo" Koral and Miles Norton at tackle; Loren Lukens and Ray Nowotny at guard, and Ray Hoar at center. Frank Kroener will follow Slavin at left end. Horace Rittner, Walt Gunther and Byron Stoddard also fill in at the wings. Walt Devine will be the first tackle substitution. Roy Wager, Sam Tucker, Harold Yonel and Bruce Martin are due for relief service at guard. Bruce Handy and Crawford Johnson will alternate with Hoar at center.

U. C. L. A. boasts an experienced squad of former prep stars, including several transfers from the strong Urban team of '32.

Olson Joins Freshmen The latest and best addition to the Westwood eleven is Carl ("Swede") Olson, aggressive tackle who recently played for Urban U. C. L. A. last week. He is the big lineman who exchanged punches with Santa Ana's Devine at the Bowl, and the officials ordered both players from the field.

Listed in the U. C. L. A. lineup are Bob Williams, all-city fullback from Los Angeles Hi; Art Reichle and Bill Spaulding Jr., former stars at Fairfax Hi; Dick Gary, 172-pound halfback; Ted Fullinwider, El Monte, and Emmett McNeil, Holtville, at end; Olson and Clifford McFarlin, 150-pounder from Belmont Hi, at tackle; Jack Hastings, 200 pounds, and Herman Spector, from Los Angeles Poly, at guard, and Lawrence McConnell, 187-pound center from Beverly Hills.

Just to settle an argument, Halfback Funk stood on one goal line the other day and punted 80 yards, the ball rolling the remaining 20 across the opposite goal. He was Urban's outstanding kicker last season. . . U. C. L. A., with 12 different passing plays, will cut loose with some fancy aerial maneuvers against the Dons. The Bruins unleashed 32 passes against Riverside, completed 10. . . The Dons open against Pomona jaycee a week from tomorrow afternoon at Pomona. Riverside and Citrus, who come here October 28 and November 4, respectively, have not agreed to night contests.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—New interest in football was awakened today along the Big Ten sector with crowds totaling more than 150,000 expected to see tomorrow's seven skirmishes, involving some of the hottest competition in years in mid-October.

The two Big Ten games—Purdue vs. Minnesota at Minneapolis and Wisconsin vs. Illinois at Champaign—are expected to attract 20,000 each. The old intra-state rivalry between Notre Dame and Indiana at Bloomington is likely to pack in 22,000 customers.

The Midwest and the nation's most important intersectional contest involves Stanford and Northwestern.

The east's representative in the day's intersectional rivalry is Cornell, which battles Michigan, Big Ten champion, at Ann Arbor.

The south sends up Vanderbilt, long a nemesis of Big Ten teams, to meet Ohio State at Columbus.

The other game, and the only minor contest on the day's program, pits Chicago against Washington university at St. Louis.

HOLD PROGRAM FOR MEMBERS STAR CHAPTER

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—Women who represent the five points of the star in Scepter chapter, O. E. S., were hostesses at the regular meeting of the organization last night, when a program was given and refreshments served at the Masonic hall. Hostesses were Miss Helen Gillogly, Mrs. Ross Stuckey, Mrs. Ray Short, Mrs. Robert Bunch and Mrs. Gelsemina Eys.

The occasion marked the birthday of the worthy matron, Mrs. Etta Chapman, who was presented with a number of lovely gifts and who was given a handkerchief shower by her chapter associates. After the program and lodge session, refreshments were served in the dining room, where tables were decorated with a profusion of autumn flowers and a fall motif was stressed. A birthday cake baked by Mrs. Robert C. Bunch held a number of twinkling candles, and the cake was cut by the honor guest.

Mrs. Josephine Biffle presented a number of her dance pupils in clever numbers. A number of members of the chapter are to attend the grand chapter meeting in Long Beach next week.

Mission School To Open Sunday

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—The missionary society of the First Presbyterian church will meet Thursday afternoon, it was announced this morning. The school of missions will open at the church for a series of Sunday evening meetings at 5:45 p. m., October 15. Miss Sue Scarritt will conduct the classes and the topic will be "Eastern Women of Today and Tomorrow."

YOUNG WOMEN IN NEW FORUM; BOOK REVIEW FOR NEXT MEET

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—The organization of a Young Women's forum took place last night in the home of Miss Bernice Vestal and Miss Vestal and Miss Pauline Snodgrass were named co-chairmen of the group, which is to meet each Monday night. Previous to each meeting the young women will take part in the gym classes at the Orange Union High school night school and the regular meeting will be held in the Girl Reserve room at the high school.

At the next meeting Miss Catherine Frankforter will give book reviews. All young women of the city between the ages of 20 and 30 years of age will be welcomed to membership.

Present were the Misses Lavinia Compton, Bernice Vestal, Joanna Day, Mildred Fyatt, Irene White, Clara Fraiser, Louise Dewa, Pauline Snodgrass, Mildred Binkley, Bommell Miller, Catherine Frankforter and Helen Lush.

PRESENT SKIT AS METHODIST CLASS MEETS

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—One of the four social meetings of the year for the S. W. class of the First Methodist church was held in the Epworth parlors this week when more than 40 members and guests shared an afternoon of games. Mrs. William H. Hall is the class teacher.

Progressive letters, a clever skit, "An Old Couple's First Trip on the Train," presented by Mrs. S. M. Patton and Mrs. W. H. Erwin, and the presentation of a big birthday cake to the group, were features. Mrs. C. C. Bennett and Mrs. Erwin were in charge of the games.

Decorations were in charge of Mrs. W. T. Sylvester and Mrs. J. A. Green, refreshments, Mrs. J. J. Wagers and Mrs. Henry Gallon, while Mrs. W. W. Perry and Mrs. Mary Suffer received guests and members. Women whose birthdays had occurred during the past three months were presented with corsages by Mrs. Perry. Mrs. Patton gave an interesting reading and Mrs. J. P. Boring presented the group with a bouquet of gorgeous dahlias.

Present at the party were Mesdames Clara Whitman, J. A. Green, O. U. Hull, Clara Roselle, C. C. Bennett, Mae Parsons, John Stinson, W. H. Erwin, Sarah Bosworth, Addie Kenyon, Myrtle Pierce, Henry Gallon, J. J. Wagers, Emma Moore, W. E. Gorton, Sam Willey, J. P. Boring, Winters, Cotner, H. F. Housley, D. E. Clay.

SAYS GOOD RESULT OF EVIL CONDITIONS

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—"The Good of Evil" was the topic discussed by Thomas McFadden, Anaheim attorney, at the meeting of the Orange Lions club at the American Legion clubhouse Wednesday. Earl Phillips, president, was in the chair and Judge A. W. Swayze was program chairman.

"Solved problems do not make for mental development," the speaker declared, as he pointed out that man had developed, not from the good which surrounded from primitive times to the present day, but from evil conditions and problems. These problems he listed as wild beasts, lack of food, lack of shelter and disease in early times. Wild beasts, he said, had forced man to make protective weapons, as other evils had forced him to devise means against them.

McFadden discussed what he termed the ever increasing crime problem, declaring that the solution lay in sterilization.

The solution of an evil problem often brings a bigger problem in its wake, the speaker declared. The abolition of slavery brought the greater problem of race to the foreground, he said. Music had its origin in the attempt to scare away evil spirits with the tom-tom of the savage, the speaker said.

PASTOR SPEAKS AT W. C. T. U. SESSION

EL MODENA, Oct. 13.—Members of the El Modena W. C. T. U. met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brubaker on North Prospect avenue. Mrs. R. W. Jones conducted the devotional service. The Rev. James Flisk gave a short address on "Conditions of Today." J. M. Brubaker sang, "Dreaming of the Dear Old Home."

Mrs. R. W. Jones installed the officers who were not present at the main installation. Those who were installed at the recent meeting were Mrs. Ella Hayden, president, and Mrs. Ethel Bricke, second vice president. At the conclusion of the business session a social hour was enjoyed. The hostess served light refreshments. Present were Mrs. Ella Hayden, Mrs. Clara Hodson, Mrs. Ella Granger, Mrs. Clara Jones, Mrs. Daisy Hadley, Mrs. Annie Barnett, Mrs. Ethel Bricke, Mrs. Lois Barnett, Mrs. Alma Lundblade, Mrs. Etta Adams, Mrs. Cordella Winters, Rev. and Mrs. James Flisk, Mrs. Mamie Settle and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brubaker.

P-T. A. MEMBERS HOLD BOX SOCIAL

EL MODENA, Oct. 13.—The first meeting of the El Modena P-T. A. was held Tuesday evening in the Roosevelt building and was in the form of a box social. The boxes were auctioned off by J. D. Hayes. The proceeds will be used for welfare work. After the supper hour a short business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Marion Filpen.

Mrs. Mabel Faulkner, Orange city librarian, gave a talk on "Mental Hygiene."

The mothers' chorus of the P-T. A., under the direction of Miss Rachel Williams, gave two numbers, "Pirate Dreams" and "That Old Refrain." Decorations carried out the Halloween motif were used, including corn stalks, black cats and yellow table cloths.

Members of the executive board acted as hostesses. They were Mrs. Marion Filpen, Mrs. Owen Smith, Mrs. Roscoe Schaffert, Mrs. Fay Irwin, Mrs. Elmer Koenig and Mrs. Hill.

Mrs. Earl Hobbs Hostess To Club

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—Mrs. Earl Hobbs was hostess at her home, 237 North Pine street, recently to the members of the 1919 club and their husbands. The home was beautifully decorated with bouquets of various colored dahlias.

After an evening spent in playing "500" delicious refreshments were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ristow, Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Timmie, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ristow, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klauer, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ristow, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bertman, Mr. and Mrs. Max Struck, of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Forker, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. John Hillebrecht and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hobbs. The next regular meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Otto Ristow on Tustin avenue Thursday afternoon.

URGES SUPPORT OF PEOPLE IN NRA CAMPAIGN

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—Two talks were heard by members of the Orange Rotary club at the regular meeting of the group in the American Legion clubhouse Thursday. Speakers were Jack Pickens, publisher of Marysville and A. L. Tomblin, fire chief of the city. W. O. Hart was the program chairman.

Pickens spoke on the NRA program, stressing the need for its support by the people of the nation. The speaker said that he believed that the program would be put over successfully and that the responsibility lay for the greater part on the shoulders of the retail merchant. The success of the program, he said, depends on increased consumption.

Tomblin spoke on fire prevention and stated that in 1931 fire losses in Orange were the lowest of any previous year. The present year the loss has been less than $1000, he stated.

GIRL RESERVES IN FIRE HALL VISIT

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—A visit to the Orange fire hall, where fire fighting apparatus and the inhalator were demonstrated, was enjoyed by the members of the seventh grade Girl Reserves yesterday afternoon. Miss Lavinia Compton had charge of the group in the absence of the leader, Mrs. Henry Joost.

One of the pleasant features of the afternoon for the girls was the introduction of the Orange firemen's mascot, "Pat," the little tan and white dog who has shared quarters with them at the fire hall for the past four years. Pat went through his tricks for the girls, showing his ability to recognize numbers when he heard them, finding money thrown at a distance in a heavy growth of grass and also showing how quickly he responds to the sound of the fire siren by leaping in the driver's seat.

Chorus Of Club Holds Luncheon

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—The chorus of the Orange Women's club met yesterday for luncheon at the clubhouse. Hostesses were Miss Sue Scarritt and Miss Flo Scarritt. The morning was spent in the usual chorus practice under the direction of Mrs. Leon Des Larzes and luncheon was served at a prettily appointed table centered with bouquets of dahlias.

Mrs. W. O. Hart gave an interesting talk on "Hannenhauer" by Wagner and Mrs. Christine Lambert played selections from this opera on the piano during the course of the talk.

CENTER P-T. A. PRESENTS BENEFIT SHOW NEXT WEEK

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—Presenting two one-act plays, "Ho Kreitas" (The Critic), by Valmar Clark and "To Quack or Not to Quack" on a variety program October 20 at 8 p. m., in Orange Union High school auditorium, Center P-T. A. will stage a benefit for the association's welfare fund.

Others appearing on the program will be Floyd Stewart, magician, who recently published a book on his art; Arthur Cannon, who will direct all music for the evening; Betty Blossom Goble, Junior Cavanaugh and Louise Goble, who will give tap dances; the Alumni quartet, formerly Santa Ana Junior college quartet, composed of Marquis Hare, Clark Brown, William Fox and Rutherford Williams, with Miss Myrtle Martin, director of music at the Junior college, directing. Lyle Anderson, of Santa Ana, will be master of ceremony for the evening.

Valmar Clark's play is to be presented with the original cast as it was given for Santa Ana Community Players after winning first place in a play contest conducted by that organization, and as it was given after winning second place in a national play writing contest.

Members of the cast are Jeanette Robey, Warren Fletcher, Joseph Peterson, Valmar Clark, Florence Browning, J. Parley Smith, Edith Cornell, Clara Kate Owens, Wiley Carlyle, Reno Golden and Leslie Steffensen.

Joseph Peterson is director of the play, "To Quack or Not to Quack."

Mrs. Joseph Peterson, president of Center P-T. A., is making arrangements for the program. Sophomores of Orange Union High school are assisting with ticket sales.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY FOR GIRL RESERVES

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—Miss Lavinia Compton, Girl Reserve advisor of Orange, surprised the eighth grade Girl Reserves with a taffy pull at the Girl Scout headquarters Wednesday afternoon.

During a short business meeting, it was decided that the organization would stage a Halloween party in the Noel Newton barn on North Batavia street. The date has not been set.

Those present were Rosemary Atchley, Marceline Moore, Lucille Chandler, Bernice Williams, Evelyn Myracle, Lulu Hutchins, Margaret Maroney, Joyce Crawford, Ida Mae Newton, Norma Craft, June Winget, Nancy Lewis, Edeline Gray and Jean Ann Raymond.

Joint Meeting Is Planned By Hi-Y Groups In Nov.

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—A joint meeting of Hi-Y groups of the Y. M. C. A. will be held early in November, according to plans now being made. The meeting will be similar to one held at the Epworth hall October 4, when Capt. Don Wilkie was the speaker.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY C.M.P. MEMBERS

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—Officers were elected at the C. M. P. club meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. B. Lane, 264 North Glassell street. The new officers include Mrs. Charles Hotchkiss, president; Mrs. Ed. Windolph, vice president; Mrs. O. U. Hull, secretary and treasurer.

Plans were made for a Halloween party to be held October 27 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Strain. Husbands of members will be guests. November 14 was set for the next business meeting of the club, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Rebecca Pope, 222 North Grand street.

After an enjoyable social afternoon refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Lane, who was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Carl Kadau. Mrs. Kadau is spending the winter in Orange with her parents. Those present were Mrs. E. N. Turner, Mrs. O. U. Hull, Mrs. W. A. Huscroft, Mrs. Rebecca Pope, Mrs. D. E. Strain, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. Laura Bowen, Mrs. J. A. Campbell, Mrs. D. F. Campbell, Mrs. John Hirst, and the hostess, Mrs. A. B. Lane.

SEW ON QUILTS
ORANGE, Oct. 13.—Women of the Christian church met in the basement of the church yesterday afternoon to sew on two quilts. During a short business meeting, presided over by the president, Mrs. John Adams, plans were discussed for the following year.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH CLASS HOLDS SOCIAL

ORANGE, Oct. 13.—Worth-while class members of First Presbyterian church spent a pleasant social evening this week as guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Culter in El Modena. Mrs. Culter is teacher of the group.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lush gave interesting accounts of their recent trip across the United States. Mr. Lush, president of the class, was in charge of a short business interval. Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. C. E. Waller, Miss Lois Gaylord and Mrs. George Stiff.

Those present, other than Mr. and Mrs. Culter, were Messrs. and Mesdames W. E. Anderson, L. F. Linberger, C. E. Waller, Winfield Ligon, C. E. Lush, W. F. Crist, J. A. Fraiser, Melvin Mason, W. A. Settle, E. N. Turner, J. A. Hill and La Monia; the Misses Emma Williamson, Lois Gaylord, Thelma Waller, Mabel Culter, Edith Culter and Clara Fraiser; Mesdames H. F. Loom, W. P. Dewes, McQuillan, O'Neal, Olive French and Roy Snodgrass and Ray Hill and Master Joseph La Monica.

Venison Dinner Held For Club

VILLA PARK, Oct. 13.—Mrs. Art Streech entertained the Twin Six club with a venison luncheon at her home on Santiago boulevard recently. Mrs. Streech used beautiful dahlias in decorating her home. After the luncheon, bridge was played, with Mr. and Mrs. Jester winning first prize and Mr. and Mrs. Watson, second prize.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Jester, of Laguna Beach; Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Watson, of Olive; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dahl, of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Jess Arterburn of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Dahl, of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Art Streech.

Intelligent Use Of Ballot Remedy For Bad Conditions

URGES DEFEAT OF WALL ST. TAMMANY HALL

Admitting that America is in a serious situation at the present time, but pointing out that citizens of the nation have in their hands the power to change it for the better in 30 days time by intelligent use of the ballot, Walter Thomas Mills, noted lecturer and authority on Technocracy, delivered a forceful address to a crowd in the Temple theater last night that overflowed to standing room in the rear of the house.

Mills asserted that if citizens vote to tell Tammany Hall and Wall street, which he said were in collusion to control all political parties, that wrongs must be righted, a program of mutual benefit to everyone can be put into effect "peacefully, lawfully, and in a hurry."

Remove Profits The diminutive but powerful speaker was applauded loudly as he outlined definite plans to call a referendum vote to bring about adoption of laws that will take away profit and which will assure every worker an equal share in commodities which he produces.

He outlined a concrete plan for establishing boards of directors as governing agencies of the nation, the directors to be chosen by workers of every class. These boards of directors, he said, would govern the nation on a business basis, with no profit taken out for privileged groups.

The speaker made effective use of a police club in his address, calling the club a measuring stick representing the total production of all commodities which could be consumed in the United States during one year. He divided the measuring stick into mythical sections, the top section representing land-lord class; the second section from the top the capitalist class; the third section from the top the manager class, and the bottom section the laboring class.

Bringing his finger down the stick from the top in a vertical manner, Mills illustrated how when one class tries to increase its profits at the expense of others, the others are pushed down the measuring stick, until the laborers are crushed at the bottom, the worker bearing the burden on his back of all classes. "How long will the worker stand for this?" he asked. He explained how the three upper classes, in their constant endeavor to increase their private profits, have glutted the markets with overproduction, filled warehouses to overflowing and have stopped the wheels of production, leaving the laborer without labor.

Reversing his procedure, the speaker ran his finger up his improvised measuring stick, asking his audience how far up he should place the upper classes, what division they should have of the commodities produced in a given year. Cries of "stop" were heard when his finger was half-way. Other cries of "shove them off the top!" were more frequent.

"There is no reason to maintain this situation under the pretense that it is beneficial to the nation," Mills said. "Would it decrease the fertility of our land if distribution were equal? Would it hurt machinery? The present system has given us four years of unspeakable anguish. We are so near the break now we can never be rehabilitated."

Lose Land "It is as bad to take land away from anyone who has saved to pay for it as it was to make him pay for it in the first place. Is it right that farmers pay for 20 years and then lose their land and that the land be sold to someone else to pay for again? Is it just that land given us by the Creator? Why is it necessary for each generation to buy a chance to live among the living?"

"The only title that lays back any land in Orange county goes back to the Spanish, who took it away from the Indians, who fought over it. Rent is payment for gifts of God and no man on earth can show a receipt from God. Technocracy suggests that inasmuch as the Creator gave us the earth, let us take it from His hands. As our dead and gone ancestors gave us machinery, let us take our hereditary and use it for mutual benefit."

Golden Rule Standard "Do you get the point? If you don't get it in your head you'll get it in the neck. There is no land in the United States which is not covered by a blanket mortgage. When we pay taxes we do not pay on principal, we merely pay interest to preserve the principal. If Uncle Sam sends us money for aid, the mortgages which follow are a denial of the ownership of our land."

"The way out of this mess is to play fair. Do unto others as you would have them do unto you. There is nothing fair in trade that does not give as much as it takes. The man who wants more than he gives is a crook. The man who accepts less is a fool. Let us stand by the Golden Rule and be neither fools nor crooks."

"Politicians cannot be but crooked as long as there are corrupt corporations to buy them off. We will never get rid of corrupt men in office until we get rid of the corrupt private corporations that buy them by paying their campaign expenses. Corruption in government is the same thing as profit in business. In both cases someone is trying to get more than he gives."

It was announced that Dr. Mills will speak at the same place and time next Thursday.

OVEN DINNERS ON MENU FOR COOKING CLASS

"All-in-the-oven-meals" are great favorites of Miss Lois Lane, home economist, who brings her ideas on cooking and home management to Santa Ana next week in her program of "The Happy Kitchen."

"The Happy Kitchen" program is part of the Register's fall cooking school, to be held next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings at the West Coast theater. The J. C. Horton Furniture company and the Alpha Beta and Orange County markets are co-sponsors of the school with The Register. Classes will be held from 10 o'clock in the morning until 12 noon each day of the school.

One of the interesting talks Miss Lane will give will deal with the one-plate meals—dinner ensembles which go into the oven all together and come out ready for the table; all sorts of delicious accessories for the well-dressed meal, that requires little time and little work.

These all-in-the-oven meals will be cooked in one of the famous Wedgewood gas ranges. The latest model stove will be installed by the J. C. Horton company, distributors of the Wedgewood range in Santa Ana. In addition there will be a display of Wedgewood stoves in the foyer of the West Coast theater. Kelvinator electric refrigerators also will be on display and the Kelvinator used in all of Miss Lane's classes. The Kelvinator will be furnished by the J. C. Horton Furniture company, local agent.

Speaking of the Wedgewood stove Miss Lane writes, "Wedgewood Gas Ranges are as fine as a half century of experience can make them. Their leadership in quality construction, distinctive beauty and convenient economical performance is unrivaled. They are the most advanced type. Every new improvement is fully tested and proved before it becomes a standard Wedgewood convenience. A most modern research laboratory constantly checks all materials used in Wedgewood construction from high quality porcelain surfaces to the fuel economy of the burners. No detail is overlooked. Wedgewood has created a new standard of excellence that assures the modern housewife of distinctive type, unbeatable economy and thorough dependability."

All foods used in Miss Lane's classes and all ingredients for recipes will be furnished by the Alpha Beta and Orange County markets. In addition free baskets of food will be given away daily by these stores.

The first class will be held next Wednesday at 10 o'clock on the stage of the West Coast theater, Third and Main streets.

CHILDREN TO BE INSTRUCTED ABOUT LIQUOR

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 13.—(UP)—California school children are going to learn all about liquor—but they're going to learn about it from the scientific viewpoint.

Verling Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction, has determined to take the mystery and the "Thou Shalt Not" out of liquor and replace it with an intelligent knowledge of the actual results of liquor upon mind and body. He has assigned N. P. Neilson, chief of the health and physical education division of the department of education, to the job, and Neilson now is preparing a temperance manual for California elementary schools.

"Children," Neilson said, "will be taught the scientific facts about alcohol and left to make their own decisions as to whether these facts recommend temperance."

"The approach will be positive, through scientific information and experiment rather than negative, through fear. There'll be no propaganda in this school program."

"Physiological effects of alcohol on the nervous system and the brain will be taught. The student will observe the stages of drunkenness, the release of self-control, effect on memory, resultant emotional instability and the escape from reality—as far as science has traced these effects of alcoholic use."

Experiments on animals' reactions to alcohol will be conducted as classroom problems, Neilson said.

"A third phase," Neilson said, "will treat sociologic effects of liquor, but the basis of the temperance appeal will be from the health standpoint, not on moral grounds. The schools will try to show the scientific facts and leave the moral question up to the individual."

State law requires school instructions on the effects of alcohol.

CLASS PLANS PARTY LA HABRA, Oct. 13.—Following out a custom started by the class last year, the Keystone class of the Methodist church will hold the second of its sunset parties, for all men and women in the community over 70 years of age. In the near future. Plans were made at a meeting of the class held this week at the Social hall, at which 30 members were in attendance.

Farmers and Fruit Growers Sessions Set For Modesto

The 1933 California Farmers' and Fruit Growers' convention will be held in Modesto December 13 and 14 according to information received here by County Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs.

A large attendance of growers and persons interested in agriculture from Orange county and Southern California is anticipated because of the interest in various major phases of agriculture in this state. This interest, Tubbs said, is due in some part to national and state legislation, effective or suggestive, with special reference to marketing, financing, proration and enforcement. Growers will be particularly interested in the program contemplated at Modesto, inasmuch as it is expected to embrace discussions of the agricultural adjustment administration, farm credits, and methods of proration agricultural crops, Tubbs said.

AVOCADO SEEDS REQUESTED BY MANY NATIONS

The world is now taking note of Southern California's rising calavo-avocado industry, as requests for avocado seeds have been received lately by the Calavo Growers' Exchange from nearly every part of the world.

Some of the letters received, and stamps also, would be welcomed by stamp collectors. Some envelopes have even borne the notation of "in his majesty's service."

Some of the various places on the globe writing to the Calavo Growers' Exchange, California, is state-wide cooperative marketing program, include Jerusalem, Palatka, Valencia, Spain; Acton, Southern Rhodesia, Africa; Cape-town, Africa; Sicily, Egypt; Al-bion Brisbane, Queensland, Australia; U. DEAN W. BOYCE SPEAKER FOR PEACE GROUP

Dean W. T. Boyce, dean of Fullerton Junior College will be the featured speaker at the regular meeting of the Council of International Relations Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the chapel of the First Methodist church in Santa Ana. It was announced today by L. L. Beeman, president.

The speaker will discuss the subject, "The Coming Disarmament Conference," giving the background of the world-wide meeting for discussion of disarmament problems.

Election of new officers probably will take place at the meeting. A nominating committee, comprised of J. F. Burke, chairman, S. M. Davis, Miss Vanche Plumb and Miss Nancy Elder, is scheduled to report at the meeting.

Picnics and Reunions

ILLINOIS The annual fall picnic reunion for the Illinoisans of all Southern California will be held in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, all day, Saturday, October 21. A fine program will follow the basket dinner hour and will include brief addresses by well known Illinoisans and music.

Each county will open headquarters and registers. Every "Sucker" of the Illinois brand is invited. A special welcome will be accorded tourists.

REPORT SHOWS ISSUE WARNING SCHOOL FUNDS TO MERCHANTS IN GOOD SHAPE ON BOGUS BILLS

Operating under a closely pared budget for this year the city schools will show a surplus at the end of the year if no emergencies occur and tax delinquencies are not more than anticipated, according to the first quarterly statement prepared by Auditor Charles Weber.

With a budget allowance of $156,462.75 the junior college with expenditures to date of $13,929.93 has an unencumbered balance of $142,532.82. This according to the budget statement will result in a surplus of $700.93 at the end of the year under the same schedule.

The high school budget is expected to show a surplus of $11,729.52. The 1933-34 high school budget allows expenditures amounting to $330,441.54 for the high school and two junior high schools. Of this amount $50,513.43 already has been expended during the quarter leaving an unencumbered balance of $279,928.11.

Expenditures in the elementary schools, to date, have amounted to $38,240.01 leaving an unencumbered balance of $242,663.76. Budget allowances for the elementary schools for the year total $250,903.77. The elementary school budget report for the first quarter at the same rate will show a surplus amounting to $24,167.04. Operation of the adult education department up to and including September 30 has cost a total of $780.69, leaving a balance of $930.30 from a total budget allowance of $911.50.

With the arrest of seven alleged counterfeiters and the seizure of $54,000 in spurious money and fake municipal and state bonds by Los Angeles secret service agents yesterday, Santa Ana police are hopeful that counterfeit activities in Santa Ana will be partially eliminated.

Merchants have been warned to closely watch bills offered by customers and especially those of $5 denomination. One Santa Ana business man received a bill yesterday which he thinks was counterfeit and was prepared to take it to the bank today. A man and a woman bought $1.50 of merchandise and left the store before the man noticed the bill might be counterfeit.

The Los Angeles suspects had $1000 in bogus $5 bills and police have been warned before that Southern California was being flooded with the fake money.

Miss Agnita Wheeler Wedded at Rites in Glendale Wee Kirk

It was in the wee Kirk O' the Heather, Glendale, that Miss Agnita Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren A. Wheeler of Garden Grove, and William L. Hewitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Miller of West First street, Santa Ana, exchanged wedding vows at impressive rites held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Preceding the ceremony was an organ recital which included at the bride's request, "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond. White chrysanthemums, ferns and palms were given in an autumnal setting for the rites, for which Miss Wheeler was gowned in harmony. She wore a sheer wool and satin ensemble costume in rich Burgundy shades, with suede accessories and a small veiled toque. Her corsage bouquet was fashioned of delicate pink tea roses and lilies of the valley. She was given in marriage by her father upon whose arm she proceeded to the altar.

Mrs. Robert Reed of Newport Beach, a life-long friend of the bride, formerly Miss Lucille Conaway, a September bride, was maid of honor and wore a modish suit of ebskein gray with black accents and a corsage cluster of orchid and pink sweet peas. Stanley Wheeler, brother of the bride, attended Mr. Hewitt as best man, while Charles Lamb and Phillip Knox were ushers.

The Rev. William C. Hodgson, pastor of Glendale Methodist Episcopal church, read the marriage service and at its conclusion the sound of chimes was heard, and a shower of rose petals descended upon the happy young couple from a wedding bell suspended above their heads.

Seeking the famous wishing stone outside the church, the new Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt received the good wishes of their friends at an informal reception for the half hundred or more guests present, then repaired to the Roosevelt hotel, Hollywood, where dinner was served to the bridal party and members of the immediate family circle.

Both young people attended Garden Grove schools, graduating with the high school class of 1930 and later attending Santa Ana Junior college. The new Mrs. Hewitt is a member of Sigma Tau Psi sorority, and her sorority sisters have complimented her at many delightful social affairs. Mr. Hewitt is affiliated with Phi Chi fraternity. He is connected with one of the Hollywood studios. After their return from a honeymoon trip the young couple will be at home to their friends in that city at 1119 North Edgemont street.

Relief Corps

Mrs. Mabel D. Elliott was initiated as a new member of Sedgwick W.R.C. Wednesday afternoon in Knights of Pythias hall, with 14 officers, 20 members and two visitors in attendance.

During the business meeting in charge of the president, Mrs. Julia Crowl, it was reported that 82 calls had been made and 27 bouquets distributed. Members learned that their adopted veteran, James Smith, of San Fernando hospital, had passed away. They voted to adopt another soldier.

Short talks were made by Mrs. Maude English, president of Anaheim Corps, and Mrs. Mary Mitchell, a member of that organization.

Preceding the meeting October 25 a benefit luncheon will be served.

Club Participants In Merry Halloween Party

Making the October meeting date of the Homophenous club, the occasion for a merry Halloween party, Mrs. F. F. Smith entertained members Tuesday afternoon in her home, 1801 North Main street. Assisting hostesses were Miss Ethel Collins, Mrs. G. F. Nash and Mrs. R. S. Thompson.

Games and contests of appropriate nature were enjoyed, and refreshments of pumpkin pie and coffee were served.

New members attending the affair were Mrs. Nancy Robertson and Mrs. Harry Westover. Others present were Mesdames Homer Cole, Sidney Druce, Harvey Groover, R. C. Huber, O. Huffine, E. Jennifer, Mary Adams Jones, E. H. Lamb, Lula Timmons, Elizabeth Wakeham, John Wehrly, and Miss Mary Wakeham, Santa Ana; Mrs. Wilson, Balboa Beach; Mrs. H. C. Foss, Placentia; Mrs. Geneva Schaffert, Orange; Mrs. Alice Booth, Anaheim; Mrs. Hugh Osborn, Mrs. Sherman Stevens, Tustin; Miss Ruth Bartlett, teacher of the class, and her mother, Mrs. G. N. Coon, and the hostess group, Miss Ethel Collins, Mrs. Nash, Mrs. Thompson and the hostess, Mrs. F. F. Smith, with her daughter, Miss Mina Smith.

The next meeting will be held November 14.

Woman's Club Section Hears Fine Talk By County Chairman

Mrs. R. G. Carman, 1815 North Roes street, leader of the Arts and Crafts section of Santa Ana Woman's club, prefaced Wednesday afternoon's meeting of the section with an informal luncheon complimenting Mrs. Melvin Salvesson of Anaheim, county arts and crafts section, Mrs. W. M. Wells, Woman's club president, and Mrs. C. S. Hoehn completed the group enjoying the menu and its accompaniment of lavender and star anise.

Other section members joined them for the afternoon, during which Mrs. Salvesson talked on art and its application to home furnishings, and presented examples of handcraft for inspection by the interested group. Rice paper prints of trees in Irvine park were especially appealing, while other articles included wood carving designs, block prints, book covers, hooked rugs, quilts and hand weaving.

Mrs. Carman's guests included Mrs. Salvesson, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Mehn, Mrs. James McCracken, Mrs. Howard McVain, Mrs. William Whitehead, Mrs. Jeff Eyerly, Mrs. A. E. Green, Mrs. M. C. Williams, Mrs. Ruth Riggle, Mrs. Harriet Lane, Mrs. A. A. Schlamman, Mrs. J. D. Watkins and Miss Lavonne Wells.

Couple To Establish Home In Long Beach

With plans to establish their home in Long Beach November 1, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Osborne are expected to return soon from a northern honeymoon trip which followed their marriage of October 3 in the Long Beach home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. E. C. Rosewurm.

The bride, the former Miss Juanita Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Cannon of Anaheim, has many friends in this city. One of her prettiest bridal showers was given by her aunt, Mrs. Frank Cannon, 615 South Birch street.

Among guests attending the wedding were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. John Cannon and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cannon, this city; Mr. and Mrs. Loren Cannon, Laguna Beach and Clyde Cannon, Arcadia.

Loren Cannon played the violin to piano accompaniment of Mrs. Rosewurm, in the wedding music used. The Rev. James Saunders of Los Angeles read the marriage service, which was followed by a reception. The new Mr. and Mrs. Cannon left shortly for their honeymoon trip, and latest word received by Santa Ana relatives was that they were at the Yosemite.

Sewing Club Members Have Meeting In Garden Grove

Chat and Sew club members participated in a pleasant time Wednesday night as guests in the home of Mrs. Harvey W. Emley, Stanford street, Garden Grove.

Attractively arranged to brighten the rooms were scarlet berried evergreens, dahlias, red daisies and other blooms. The autumnal theme was further observed during the refreshment hour when a dainty menu was served on individual trays appointed in red and white.

Those sharing Mrs. Emley's hospitality were Mesdames Dale Griggs, Ruth W. Riggle, T. R. Nail, Enslay Campbell and John J. Vernon, Santa Ana; Mesdames Edwin Westcott, Oliver Wickersham, Earl Wood, John T. Moynihan, E. C. Frevert, V. C. Estes, Wilbur Woods and Miss Edna Case, Orange.

Mrs. Estes, 1334 East Chapman avenue, Orange, is to be hostess to the group on October 24.

Economics Section Enjoys Luncheon

Presiding as hostess at the enjoyable luncheon meeting of the Economics section held Wednesday afternoon in the clubhouse were Mesdames Joe C. Burke, Ralph Mosher, R. P. Yeagle and W. S. Thompson.

Following luncheon served at small tables centered with zinnias, a business session was conducted by Mrs. Burke, leader. Mrs. C. V. Davis was speaker, giving high lights of her recent trip through the Panama Canal to New York City and thence to Chicago.

Mrs. Earl Morrow read letters of interest from Miss Janet Briggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Briggs, who is studying in Austria.

Club Has Luncheon In Long Beach

Martha Washington club members took part in an enjoyable luncheon Wednesday afternoon, motorizing to Long Beach to be guests in the home of Mrs. C. E. Jackson.

In the group were Mesdames Pauline Decker, Stella Henderson, Ruth Zabel, Bess McDonald, Hattie Peters, Inez Baker, Sadie House, Mae Curtis, Mamie Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Corman, all of this community, and the hostess, Mrs. Jackson.

Parent-Teachers

Woodrow Wilson P.-T. A. launched its new year's work Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. H. C. Brown, president, and her officers greeting more than 60 members.

Chairman's reports evidenced the renewed interest. Mrs. L. J. Nesbitt stating that the year's quota of 75 members was exceeded by three, and Mrs. N. Thornberg reporting eight new subscriptions to the California Parent-Teacher magazine. Mrs. D. B. Carmichael told of her work as chairman of the summer roundup.

Mrs. Brown asked for contributions of used clothing and of canned foods to aid in caring for needy families. Mrs. R. W. Dietrich, secretary, read the Association Ethics as a preliminary to the distribution of membership cards by Mrs. Nesbitt.

Mrs. Russell Adkinson introduced Judge Kenneth Morrison, who talked on crime, youthful criminals and parental mistakes in child training. He declared that divorce and family quarrels were the roots of much of the crime among youth of the country. "Too much idleness and lack of places for healthful recreation bring our children into the criminal courts," he stated.

Miss Frances Love gave two enjoyable readings and Lorene Croddy Graves gave a humorous French dialect number. It was announced that Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, would be the speaker at the November 14th meeting, on "Parental Education and Vocational Guidance." Mrs. Carl Edgar was introduced as chairman of the home-making committee.

During the social hour refreshments were served to the accompaniment of clever Halloween decorations by a committee composed of Mrs. C. W. Eggleston, chairman, and sixth grade mothers, Mesdames P. F. Colanichuk, G. E. Hart, R. E. Couch, F. A. Wilbur, W. E. Friend and E. C. Watkins.

McKinley

With the McKinley P.-T. A. president, Mrs. John J. Mills, leading in the flag salute, and Mrs. P. M. Webb at the piano for community singing of "America," McKinley P.-T. A. Wednesday held a successful session in the school kindergarten. After routine business incident to launching the year's work, Mrs. Mills turned the meeting over to the program chairman, Mrs. Floyd Mitchell.

Mrs. S. I. Preble gave a short talk on "Aims and Policies of the P.-T. A." and Mrs. Robert Grover followed with whistling solos, "The Bluebird" and "Chinese Lullaby." Mrs. Evadna K. Perry gave the principal feature of the program, an address on "The Three C's, Culture, Character and Citizenship." She linked art with these three allied subjects in clever manner, and illustrated her talk with examples of art work from various schools in Orange county.

Concluding the afternoon, mothers of sixth grade students in Miss Gertrude Potts' room, were hostesses at a friendly tea hour.

YOU and your Friends

Mrs. Allie Cain, 651 West Eighth street, who has been ill for some time, is reported making a nice recovery.

Mrs. D. H. Thompson and daughter, Miss Barbara Thompson, 1109 Kilson drive, have returned from a two months' trip east, during which they visited the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago and other points of interest.

Mrs. Mary Dunn, 1037 West First street, spent today in Pomona.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jiles and son, Russell Elliget, 1120 North Olive street, are entertaining this evening with a little family dinner party honoring the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Jiles' mother, Mrs. Daisy McGee, 519 West Second street, which occurs today.

Mrs. Elsie Bohling and Miss Hencetta Bohling, 408 West Eighth street, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Lewis, who live near Westminster, are expected to return Sunday from San Francisco, where they have been spending the past week. Mrs. Bohling and Miss Bohling were guests of their sister and aunt, Miss Marie Buck.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, 401 West Eighth street, spent yesterday in Huntington Park, where Mrs. Fairbanks was speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Women's Union of First Baptist church of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Battey, 110 South Birch street, have had as guest this week their daughter, Mrs. Warren Wilson (Helen Battey) of Los Angeles. On Sunday, Mrs. Battey's mother and sister, Mrs. B. Battey and Miss Abby Battey of Los Angeles, will arrive for a visit. The senior Mrs. Battey, 88 years old, has made a dozen quilts in the intricate wedding ring design, and has just completed a beautiful hooked rug in which she used the woolen blankets which her father purchased for her in Chicago when she was married, many years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Eyerly, 501 South Van Ness avenue, had as guests yesterday Mrs. Eyerly's sisters, Mrs. T. M. Conron of Montclair, Mrs. Alice Gilmer, dietician at the Jewish Sanitarium, Duarte.

Mrs. Dr. Bernardo J. Gastelo, wife of the former ambassador from Mexico to Italy, and Mrs. Ernesto Felto, wife of the distributor of auto accessories and supplies for the state of Sinaloa, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Gonzales today.

Many Friends Invited To Pleasant Party

Friends from this city of Mrs. Curtis Stone were among guests assembled Wednesday afternoon in the Irvine home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Ralph Stone, for an enjoyable party and gift shower complimenting the young Santa Ana matron. The shower of pretty presents came as the climax of a social afternoon.

Coffee and ice cream were served by the hostess assisted by her daughters, the Misses Evelyn and Lois Stone.

Guests included Mrs. Mary Hall, Glendora; Mrs. Schiffer and daughters, Mary and Ruth Schiffer, Monrovia; Mrs. Jessie Ross, Brea; Mrs. Leo West, El Toro; Mrs. Tom Johnson and Mrs. Ervin Stone, Huntington Park; and the group from Irvine and Santa Ana, Mesdames Henry Boosey, William Whitehead, D. C. Hazen, Ransler Baker, Charles Pique, Eva Stone, Newton Penman and daughter, Jack Riley, Martha Rogers, Beth Brander, Paul Furtich, Thomas Shedd, Nellie Thompson, Verna Miller, Hazel Fuller, Ernest Cady, Charles Smith, Gavin Baxter, Owen Murray, William Kellams and Hazel Whitehead, together with the honoree, Mrs. Curtis Stone.

Royal Neighbors

Preceding their business meeting and program early this week in the Commercial Bank building, Royal Neighbors served dinner to more than 280 members and guests, with Mrs. Lenora Farmer as general chairman.

Mrs. Elva Crawford and Jerome Stephenson formed a decorating committee arranging yellow dahlias and other blooms throughout the hall. Those serving were Mrs. Neva Weekly, chairman, and Mesdames Florence Terpstra, Ruth Louman, Tillie Manderschied, Gladys Harmon, Marguerite Crawford and Kristine Nielsen.

Serving in the kitchen were Mrs. Laura Dunlap, Miss Trena Johnson, Mrs. Bess Simmons, Mrs. Clara Blackwell, Mrs. Alma Knowlton, Mrs. Marjorie Boyd, Mrs. Ivy Stephenson, Mrs. Maxie Wilson, Mrs. Ethel Manderschied and Mrs. Agnes Watson.

During the lodge meeting, Mrs. Charlotte Bacon, vice orator, presided in the absence of Mrs. Pearl Leub, who has been ill. Mrs. Clara Blackwell was appointed chairman of the float committee for the Armistice day parade, with Miss Trena Johnson, Mrs. Cora Breeding, Mrs. Elva Crawford, Mrs. Marjorie Boyd and E. U. Farmer as her assistants. Warren Kimball of Garden Grove was taken in as a new member and Mrs. E. Bovick of Seattle, Wash., was introduced.

A program had been arranged for those not attending lodge session. Card games were played under direction of Mrs. Frederica Miller. A masquerade Halloween party is to be held at the next meeting.

Kiwanians Stage Gala Function for Wives And Guests

With business affairs incident to the election of a new Kiwanis president in the person of Theo A. Winbigger, concluded for the season, Kiwanians last night felt free to enter with zest into plans for a delightful evening complimenting the Kiwanettes and other guests in the big assembly room of Ebel clubhouse.

Formality was lacking in the evening, hosts and guests mingling in that spirit of gay friendliness that always seems to characterize the parties given by this service club. Bridge tables were placed in the assembly room amidst a profusion of flowers arranged by Mesdames Orlyn Robertson, Otto Haan, Fred Newcomb Jr., Ellie Diehl, Fred Crowell and Harry G. Huffman, assisting their husbands in plans for the evening. Mammoth display dahlias in the Jane Cowi variety, and others equally beautiful, were from the gardens of Mrs. Robertson while clusters of chrysanthemums were from Mrs. Newcomb's garden. The stage was especially charming, with its trolleys festooned with autumn leaves and sprays.

Musical interlude. It was from this stage that Orlyn Robertson as master of ceremonies, introduced the musical interlude, a program by the Musical Arts Octet with Miss Ruth Armstrong, director. In a clever skit written by Irma Huffman May especially for the occasion, the singers, Mrs. May, Sally Lee, Scates, Holly Lash Vise, Marie Bishop, Edith Cornell, Besse Nalle, Jane Burns and Cecil Fross Willits, gave a varied and delightful program.

Ensemble numbers included "Take Joy Home," "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," "A Serenade," "Smiling Through," "The Star" and the Brahms "Lullaby." It seemed especially appropriate that Irma Huffman May should be soloist, since her brother, Dr. Harry G. Huffman, has just completed a successful year as Kiwanis president. Her solo numbers were "Song of the Open" by La Forge, and "Love" from the latest Gloria Swanson picture. For encore she sang an amusing whiney that she explained might fit any service club with the exception of Kiwanis.

Prize Awards. Bridge play was resumed for a short interval before the serving of ice cream squares with the service club letter, cake and coffee, with a large group of clubmen accomplishing the serving. Bestowal of prizes formed the evening's finale. Kiwanis guests receiving first prizes in contract bridge, were Mrs. J. Frank Burke and Arvid L. Heilberg, with smaller prizes awarded to Kiwanian holders of high score, Mrs. Harry Westover and Loren Moore. Among auction players, Mrs. F. Murray Robinson and John H. Criddle were guests suitably rewarded for scoring high, while Mrs. G. W. Leive and Theo Winbigger scored among Kiwanians.

The next social gesture of the club will be the dinner and dance to be shared the night of October 24 with the Whittier Kiwanis club in that city, after which Santa Ana members will begin to plan for their big Christmas dance.

The ceremony is to take place Sunday, October 15 at 4 p. m. in the First Christian church, Chapman avenue and Grand street, Orange, with the Rev. Franklin H. Minck officiating.

Women's Forum

Dr. Hester Olewiler was program chairman and Mrs. Fred Harrison, toastmistress, for the luncheon meeting of the Women's Forum held Tuesday at the Doris Kathryn.

The program included talks by Dr. Julia Hinrichs on "Henry Ford" and by Mrs. W. F. Mueller on "Handwork in the Schools." Other members gave extemporaneous talks.

Mrs. T. P. McKee, president, was in charge of the business session.

Junior Music Club

Meeting recently with Miss Marie Stanton Eyerly, 501 South Van Ness avenue, members of the Junior Music club spent a pleasant afternoon, the program for which had been arranged by La Vonne Wells.

Richard Gibson played "The Swallow" and Stewart Gibson played "Sparkling Dew Drops" on the piano. Mrs. Eyerly talked on Musical Terms and Interpretations.

In a musical game played during the social hour, Ralph Tippin won first place. Light refreshments were served.

Ruth Hawley is to be leader at the next meeting.

Daughters of Veterans

Tuesday's business meeting of Sarah A. Rounds tent, Daughters of Union Veterans, in Pythian hall presented many phases of interest to members present. Mrs. Rowena Grount presided over the session during which application for membership was received from Viva Gossett.

Reports showed 36 calls made and 76 bouquets delivered since the previous meeting, and the presentation of an American flag to Girl Scout Troop No. 4, by the patriotic instructor, Olive Willard. Miss Minnie Cowan, chairman of the quilt committee, reported that the Daughters' quilt, recently completed to be sold for welfare work of the tent, had been awarded first prize at the Los Angeles county fair in Pomona.

The tent received invitation to the dinner to be given in Glendale November 13, complimenting Russell Martin, newly elected commander in chief of the G.A.R. Plans were made for a covered dish dinner with which the Daughters will compliment the Sons of Union Veterans on the evening of October 27 in K. P. hall. Dates of November 3 and 4 were set for the annual bazaar of the Daughters of Veterans.

C. OF C. BACKS SCHOOL PLAN IN LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 13.—A point of a special committee to act in an advisory capacity to the board of education, with the object of assuring the opening of a high school in Laguna Beach by September, 1934, was authorized at a meeting of the chamber of commerce Wednesday. Perry E. McCulloch, acting president, named Directors John Jehle, Dr. Burgess B. Mason and W. A. Wolf to serve and to report progress.

Director Jehle reported that a movement apparently is on foot to delay the work of establishing a school so that the high school district will lapse. He said there is a group in Laguna Beach determined to prevent the addition of taxes of any kind. Other directors agreed that the chamber of commerce should get behind the high school movement and not to let it come to rest.

Reports submitted by Capt. George A. Portus, executive secretary, show an increase of 60 new members since he took office two months ago. The meeting saw only two directors absent and much enthusiasm was manifested. Portus is preparing a budget showing the cost of maintaining the chamber and providing for its promotional activities. When it is completed an effort will be made to finance the budget and the assistance of the city council will be asked. It is probable that at the Spring municipal election a proposition will be submitted to the voters calling for a small tax to provide an advertising and promotional fund.

Miss Margery Burns has been appointed assistant secretary and occupies a desk at the office of the chamber during regular hours.

SIGN VOLLEYBALL PLAYERS AT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 13.—Those who have signed up for night volleyball games at the high school, according to Coach Ralph K. Reed, are Joe Allen, Leroy Anderson, N. Crowe, W. C. Cooper, Don Douglas, Gordon Finlay, Don Gibson, Everett Gibson, Gus Hanson, Harold Grauel, "Spide" Hostetter, Don McCollum, Homer Mellett, Orville Northrup, A. M. Nelson, Arden Long, Harold Long, Conrad Shook, Leon Yale, Jess Searless, Forrest Gardner, Frank Burnham, B. F. Chaplin, Ed Rogers, Ray Wallace, Dr. Carl Jackson, the Rev. W. I. Lowe, I. B. Meyers and Arthur Powell.

A larger class is expected than last year, Reed stated. Anyone is welcome to join. There will be no charge except a small towel fee. Practice will be held each Thursday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Members Of Club In Bridge Party

MIDWAY CITY, Oct. 13.—Members of the Jolly Dozen club met Tuesday with Mrs. B. L. Kirkham, of Midway City, acting as hostess at the all-day affair at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Holby, at Wintersburg.

Those present included Mrs. Kirkham and Mrs. Holley, the hostesses; Mrs. D. Everett Hall, Mrs. W. E. Moore, Mrs. N. A. Charles, Whitte, Mrs. Fred Hesse, Mrs. Wm. Millholland, Mrs. Elizabeth Tenney Wilson, Mrs. McCarthy, Mrs. Dale Dunstan, Mrs. N. A. Nelson, Mrs. S. A. Miller, Mrs. J. L. Esser, Mrs. Robert Hazard.

Prizes in bridge were awarded, as follows: Mrs. W. A. Millholland, first; Mrs. Charles Whitte, second, and Mrs. McCarthy, consolation.

Business Session, Lecture for Beach Artists Saturday

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 13.—Amendments to the constitution of the Laguna Beach Art association, which will be voted upon Saturday night, lessen the restrictions placed upon active membership and seek to admit more pictures.

At the present time the candidates for active membership must submit three canvases to a jury composed of the artist members of the board of directors, who must pass favorably upon the work before they are admitted. The proposed amendment would permit any painter to submit one painting and if it is passed favorably by the jury of selection for any of the stated exhibitions, the artist is admitted to active membership. A second amendment would strike out the provision that the jury to pass upon active membership must be composed of the artist members of the board.

Mrs. Helen Carter Tiffany, new curator at the gallery, has announced that following the business meeting, which is scheduled for 7:30 p. m., Conrad Buff, of Los Angeles, will give a lecture on art. About half of the square yards of concrete for the floor of the basement gallery have been paid or subscribed for.

PREVENTION OF FIRES TOPIC AT LIONS SESSION

BREA, Oct. 13.—W. A. Culp, program chairman, presented W. E. Earle, secretary of the Pacific coast Board of Fire Underwriters, as the speaker at the luncheon of Brea Lions Thursday. Earle stated that fire prevention week was instituted shortly after the great Chicago fire and has been observed ever since. J. B. Phillips presided in the absence of the president, Ralph Barnes.

Ed Peterkin, chairman of the baseball committee of the club, reported that the Brea den had been awarded the Orange county council championship, having defeated Anaheim by a score of 10 to 6. Ed Curtis reported that a four-some of Brea Lions had met defeat from a foursome of the Anaheim den at the Hacienda golf course on Sunday.

C. O. Harvey, president of the county council, announced the meeting of the council in Brea next Monday night, the dinner to be served in the social hall of the Congregational church by the women of the guild. Garden Grove den, he said, will be present with 12 new members. Initiation of new members will be one of the features of this meeting. The program will be presented by Dr. Glenn Curtis.

Club Formed By Mexican Pupils

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 13.—Mexican boys and girls of the fifth to the eighth grades organized the Westminster Conservation club this week. It has for its objective the beautifying of the school grounds and helping the pupils whose parents cannot find work. The following officers were elected: President, Joe Vigil; vice president, Rosendo Vaga; secretary, Lysa Diez; treasurer, Tony Rivera. The club voted to have a winter bake Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Westminster park. This will be followed by games for the boys and girls.

This room, taught by Nevin Otis, had the best attendance last month it has had for over a year, the attendance being 99.3 per cent.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

SOCIAL ENJOYED BY CHURCH CLASS

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 13.—The regular meeting of the Eulogia Sunday school class of the Anaheim Calvary church was held in the home of the class teacher, Mrs. G. L. Beardsley, on East Acacia street Tuesday evening. As Mr. and Mrs. Beardsley have just moved into their new home, the affair was in the form of a housewarming. Mrs. Beardsley received many lovely gifts. The house had been decorated with potted plants and baskets of dahlias by Mrs. Margaret Beardsley.

A short business session was presided over by Mrs. Bess Mott and devotions were led by Mrs. Helen Hanson. After a social evening refreshments of pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream and coffee were served.

Guests of the evening were Mesdames Goldie Arrowsmith, Zella Van Vranken, Margaret Beardsley, Hattie Beardsley and Pearl Keele, while the following members of the class were present: Mesdames Mary Jones, Bess Mott, Beulah Baker, Lella Campbell, Florence Guss, Merle Ledbetter, Helen Hanson, Florence Kerr, Hazel Bowen, Vesta Lowe, Arleen Mahoney, Cora Ballow, Pearl Grange, Marguerite Harris, Rawlings, Ipengnia Grow, Eva Ter Best, Emma Cole, Ethel Jackson, Ida Daws, of Anaheim; Bessie Wade, Ruth Cooley, Minnie Lockman and Luella Beardsley, of Garden Grove.

Arrange Services In Tustin Church

TUSTIN, Oct. 13.—The Rev. J. Stuart Hyndman, pastor of the Tustin Presbyterian church, will speak Sunday at 7:30 p. m. on "Rutherford-Jam versus the Bible. Are the Teachings of Judge Rutherford in Accordance With the Bible? Do We Need Another Church in the Community?" Special music will be featured at this service. The public is cordially invited.

At 11 o'clock Sunday morning, the Rev. Mr. Hyndman will speak on "The Righteousness of God." Special music will be rendered by the vested choir.

Two Bible classes are being conducted by the pastor at the church, one every Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock and one every Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock. The subject for next Thursday's lesson is "Prophecy and the Book of Daniel" and for next Wednesday's lesson is "The Foundations of Dispensational Truths." These Bible classes are open to the public and members of the classes are invited to bring in their questions on the Bible.

Talbert League Names Officers

TALBERT, Oct. 13.—Officers have been named for the Talbert Epworth League of the Methodist church, south, with Miss Violet Rogers as president, Miss Ruth Moody, Miss Virginia Saunders and Edward Moody, vice presidents and Miss Moody, secretary and treasurer.

League meetings will be held each Sunday evening at 8 o'clock preceding the regular evening church service and all young people are cordially invited to attend. Choir practice is announced for each Thursday evening at the church.

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon
Salad Plate:
1 cup finely shredded cabbage
2 tbsps. grated pineapple
Lettuce garnish
2 tbsps. mineral oil mayonnaise
2 slices Zwieback with 1 tsp. butter
Clear tea, no sugar
Calory total, 220.

This is a good salad luncheon for the whole family but for the sake of peace don't serve them Zwieback!

The only purpose of Zwieback or any of the other hard toasted breads is to cut down consumption by reason of difficulty in eating. Many people have the erroneous idea that dry toasts have less food value, or have lost their ability to make weight, because of toasting. They have not, in fact, a toasted bread, taken by weight, has considerably more food value than the same weight of fresh bread.

For the family serve hot rolls, hot buttered toast, or corn muffins, and some sort of dessert.

Our Standard Leaflet Offerings

No. 1: a copy of an easy and efficient reducing diet, SAFE AND SANE DIET, is offered free of charge if you send along a stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing purposes.

No. 2: A most complete CALORY

LIST, covering 320 kinds of food listed by spoonfuls, tablespoonfuls, cups, quarts, etc., all worked out so that nothing is left to the imagination of those unfamiliar with the calory system. This may be had by exchanging a favorite recipe, accompanied by the usual stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Banana Nut Loaf

3 medium bananas, not too ripe
2 eggs, well beaten
3 tbsps. sour milk
1 tsp. soda
3 tbsps. melted butter
1-4 tsp. salt
1 cup sugar
2 cups flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1-2 or 3-4 cup chopped nuts
—CONTRIBUTED RECIPE
Mash the bananas, add the beaten eggs and beat again.
Add soda to sour milk and stir until it foams, then beat with the banana-egg mixture.

The melted butter and sugar go in next, with a brisk stirring. The flour is sifted once, then measured, baking powder and salt added, the whole sifted and mixed into the first part.

The chopped nuts are folded in last, the batter baked in a loaf tin, 1 hour, oven moderate.

There are nearly 2000 calories in this loaf, making around 15 thin slices, worth 200 each.

Wouldn't this be good with afternoon coffee?

Saturday: Apple Up-side Down Cake.

Scout Committee In Fund Campaign

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 13. — A campaign for the purpose of raising $75 needed to complete payment on the Westminster Boy Scout cabin was authorized Tuesday evening by the Scout committee.

Committees to canvas the three communities included in this Scout district were appointed, Armand Heil and E. M. Toussaint being appointed for Midway City and Ned Clinton and M. J. P. Heil for Westminster and Barber City communities.

One additional Scout committee-man was added, George Pringle being chosen to work with the present committee, E. M. Toussaint, Ned Clinton, M. J. P. Heil, Armand Heil and Francis Penhall.

M.O.D. Plant Open In Two Weeks For Off Bloom Oranges

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 13.—With plans made to reopen in about two weeks to handle seven or eight cars of off-bloom fruit, the Garden Grove Mutual Orange association closed today, it was announced by E. J. Smale, manager.

The association has 20 cars of valencias in storage at Pasadena and these will be shipped under the prorate regulations. The total for the season will reach 175 cars. The association sent 20 cars to foreign markets.

Returns were less this year than last due to lessened buying power of the public, it was stated. The plant was opened in June.

INHALING ADVISED TO STOP SMOKING

VIENNA, Aug. (INS)—That the best way for breaking the smoking habit is to take deep breath is the startling discovery of the well-known Viennese physician, Dr. H. Robicsek.

"Whenever you feel a longing to smoke," says the doctor, "just take a very deep breath, hold it for about four seconds, expel the air forcibly, and after a prolonged pause repeat this sequence four or five times. You will find that the craving for tobacco disappears entirely."

The explanation according to Dr. Robicsek is that habitual smoking leads to intoxication of the respiratory center, and with it to a disturbance of the gas metabolism.

Breathing becomes shallow, with hasty and incomplete inspirations and protracted respiratory pauses. The subjective sensations of the smoker are to a large extent the result of this disturbance.

By the breathing exercise described above, these sensations are produced artificially. Thus the desire for tobacco is overcome in most cases within forty-eight hours.

Western Senators Held In Esteem

SALEM, Ore.—(UP)—Oregon residents claim the state has two potential 1936 presidential candidates in Senators Charles McNary and Frederick Steiwer, both Republicans.

McNary, minority leader of the Senate, has been widely talked, in Oregon at any rate, as possible opponent of Roosevelt next election. He is now serving his third term in the Senate, has been chairman of the agricultural committee and was co-author of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill.

Steiwer, one of the few Republican Senators to be re-elected in 1932, attained prominence in his fight against the administration's veterans' compensation cuts. Since then he has been endorsed for President by some Oregon American Legion posts, and some have urged the forming of a veterans' party with Steiwer as leader.

Signals in Spanish UNIVERSITY, Ala.—(UP)—Quarterback Frank Moseley of Alabama's Crimson Tide could get along pretty good calling signals in Spanish if the opposition should catch onto them this fall. Nearly all of the first string men have had, or are taking the language, while the reserves are almost as adept.

NEGROES SPEAK GERMAN ST. LOUIS, (UP)—Negro servants in St. Louis German and Italian homes, especially in the distinct German and Italian communities here, speak the languages as fluently as they do English.

Schilling LEMON EXTRACT

1 drop of it does the work of 3 of the ordinary kind. Schilling contains 3 times the amount of lemon oil required by the U.S. Gov't. standard. That's why it goes further — imparts a richer flavor.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The fish meal was a big success. Soon Dotty loudly said, "I guess that I have had enough to eat. I'm going to take a snooze."

"Oh, no," cried Scouty, with a smile. "Please save your sleep till after while. We have to find we Duncy, and there is no time to lose."

"Now, wait," the fisherman cried out. "You Tinymites are scared, no doubt, about your little pal, but I can promise he's all right."

"I know right where he's bound to be. Now, please leave everything to me and I will see that you reach Duncy ere day turns to night."

"You see, I have a happy hunch, that I am sure will please this bunch. Come right into my cabin. Then I'll show you what I mean."

"All right," said Goldy. "Lead the way, I trust you. That's all I can say. For anything that you suggest I'm really very keen."

So, to the cabin they all ran, and shortly the old fisherman said, "I am going to paint you up like Indians. 'Twill be fun."

"I have the clothes and everything. Just wait right here and I will bring them out. I'll also paint your faces. 'Twill be lots of fun."

"Well, sir, whatever you say goes, but what you're up to, goodness knows," said Windy. "We will shortly be wee Indians, brave and bold."

Some Indian suits were then brought out, and greeted with a merry shout. "I hope they're warm," said Dotty. "Cause I don't want to catch cold."

A suit was found for every lad and Copy shouted, "Gee, I'm glad that we are dressing up like this. Some funny things we'll do."

"Be patient," said the kind old man. "I'll help you every way I can to have real fun, but right now, lads, stand still until I'm through."

SUNSET BEACH

SUNSET BEACH, Oct. 13.—John W. Betts has taken the cottage at 1341 Ocean avenue for the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Nell, accompanied by their son, S. H. Nell, have left for an extended auto tour to various parts of California. S. H. Nell will return after two weeks, but Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Nell expect to be absent until Christmas.

Mrs. Harry Carr was a recent business visitor in Sunset Beach. Harry Cresswell has been ill for several days with a slight case of influenza.

Miss Jean Wood, Anaheim, will spend the week end with Jeanne Nell.

A BRAND NEW DOLL'S WARDROBE!

PATTERN 1552
By ANNE ADAMS

How do youngsters learn to sew? Why just as we did, of course, way back in the days when we used to make new outfits for our very best doll—only it's twice as much fun and easier for the present generation of little mothers. This cunning little wardrobe contains hat, coat, frock, panties and pajamas, and one of the new Instructor charts that tells with words and pictures exactly how to put it together! Pattern 1552 is available for 16, 18, 22 and 24 inch dolls. See Instructor chart for yardage. Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE. The smartest Fall and Winter styles, the newest fabrics, hints on harmonious colorings and jewelry, how to knit a smart sweater, gifts for the kiddies, last minute fashion fashions—these are among the fascinating items in the NEW FALL AND WINTER EDITION OF THE ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK. THIS BOOK WILL HELP YOU SAVE MONEY. ORDER YOUR COPY TODAY! PRICE OF CATALOG FIFTEEN CENTS. CATALOG AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS. Address orders to Register Pattern Department.

Mr. Coombs is time keeper for the Petroleum Securities corporation and the couple will live at Doheny Park.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH COMMON CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Constipation gets its grip on a person almost unawares. It often starts with such little things. Headaches. Listlessness. Bad complexion. Unpleasant breath. If unchecked, it may seriously impair your health.

Fortunately, you can avoid this danger by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides two things needed to overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of iron for the blood.

Biological tests demonstrate that the "bulk" in bran is similar to that in leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much better than taking unpleasant patent medicines. Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Serious cases, with every meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

JAMES MELTON TO SING FOR KREG

James Melton, tenor, will be featured tonight at 7:30 over KREG of "Gajek's Music Album." This program promises to be particularly appealing in that it will offer two old and two modern songs.

Melton will sing the four popular numbers, "Because," "Macaulay," "As Close as Day" and "I Love You," from the motion picture "Wonder of Women."

These programs sponsored by the Gajek's Music Album company are broadcast at this hour every Friday night featuring favorite classics, semi-classics and well-known ballads.

KREG NOTES

"Rosemary Rhythms" at 6:15 to night, KREG, is to be an all popular presentation. Ben Bernie, Ted Lewis and other maestros of the dance will provide the music.

Another glittering drama: "The Unforgivable Sin" is scheduled to night at 7:45 with an all-star cast and an absorbing story.

"Individuality" in interior decoration and how it is achieved to suit the individual by interior decorators is one interesting topic to be discussed by Prudence Penny, "Domestic to a Million Homes," on KREG at 10:30 tomorrow morning. Other highlights of her broadcast are tips on how to make corned beef unusually good and how to make "Hot Chicago," a new relish.

Immediately following the radio broadcast by the Texas Ramblers tonight from KREG between 8 and 8:30, they will make a public appearance at the Santa Ana location of the Cal-Baden Distributing Company, 308 North Sycamore Street. Everyone is invited to see them there in person and to hear their program of specialties.

Bonnie Mae Martin's program of piano numbers tomorrow morning at 11:45 will include "Nocturne in G Minor," Chopin; "2nd Arabesque," Debussy; "Cradle Song," Brahms, arranged by Percy Grainger, and "Gottweck's Cello Walk," Debussy. Her programs start Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, whether classical or popular, are open to request.

The first of the new series of March of Time broadcasts will be heard over KKHJ at 8:30 this evening.

One of the South's outstanding gridiron coaches, Dan E. McGuinn, of Vanderbilt, will be heard on the All-American Football Show over KKHJ, 6:30-7 tonight. He will be interviewed by Christy Walsh in the CBS studios at Columbus, where his team will face Ohio State tomorrow.

With the general theme, "This Crisis in History," the Third Annual Women's Conference on Current Problems will be climaxed by an address by President Roosevelt from the White House, between 7 and 7:30 tonight, over KFI.

A cow-calling contest, like of which has never been heard, will be staged by Olsen and Johnson as one of the highlights of their broadcast over a Columbia network, including KKHJ, at 7 o'clock.

Staged on the eve of the Olympic club contest with the Golden Bears at Memorial Stadium, Berkeley, NBC will present another of its colorful Football Rallies over KPO, from 9:30 to 10 o'clock.

Motivated by the spirit of the football season, Kay Kyrger and his Bal Tabarin Orchestra will inaugurate a service to grid enthusiasts by giving a musical schedule of the games to be played in the West the following day. This unique presentation will be heard when NBC relays the program from the San Francisco cafe from 11:30 to 12 midnight tonight. KFI will release the broadcast.

SATURDAY

The first major intersectional game of the 1933 football season, the clash between Leland Stanford and Northwestern at Chicago, will be broadcast over KKHJ, beginning at 11:45 a. m. Saturday. Ted Husing will be at the microphone. Graham McNamee and Dick Hyland will handle the broadcast for NBC stations, including KECA, KPO and possibly KPSD.

The play-by-play story of the U. S. C. St. Mary's game, at Los Angeles, will be broadcast to Southern California football fans Saturday afternoon through KKHJ and KFI. The broadcast goes on the air at 2:15.

C. OF C. HOLDS PARTY

MIDWAY CITY, Oct. 13.—Six tables of bridge entertained at the chamber of commerce public clubhouse this week, with Robert Hazard, Claude Harlow, B. L. Kirkham and E. N. McAllister as hosts.

Prize awards went to Mrs. Nellie Murdy, first for women and Mrs. R. L. Kirkham, second; J. L. Edwards, first for men and Perry McAdoo, second. Refreshments of apple pie and coffee were served.

A. F. OF L. AND INFLATION

The American Federation of Labor makes declaration against inflation. The leaders of the A. F. of L. have never been able to think in terms of labor as a whole, or the total number of wage earners of the country. They can think only in terms of their membership and of their employed membership.

It is undoubtedly true that the first effect of inflation would be to militate against the interest of those whose wages or salaries are fixed, because it would raise prices without an immediate and corresponding raise in salaries or wages. But by the same token that it would do this, it would enable hundreds of thousands of debtors in the country to meet their obligations; it would increase financial returns to business, and undoubtedly do more to put the unemployed to work than anything that has yet been undertaken.

By increasing business in this manner and employment, the whole wage scale would be "jacked up" all over the country. The difficulty which confronts the nation today is the debt structure, which is only being shaken off by the process of bankruptcy, which is destroying the savings of a life time and the equity in property of millions of people. But the Federation of Labor leaders only think of this as we said, in terms of those employed, and are not thinking in terms of the good of the whole country.

In a similar manner the arguments against inflation as though the government were making a promise without foundation are shown to be equally absurd, with a little examination. For example, it has been urged that inflation be pursued by the process of the government issuing treasury notes for bonds outstanding. This, it is pointed out, would save interest by the government, and tend to put money in circulation. "But," say the objectors, "this is fiat money. It is just a promise to pay."

But, after all, what is the difference between the bond and the note, except the fact that the bond bears interest? The bond is passed from hand to hand—it is a promise to pay by the government. To be sure, it is usually in large denominations, a hundred dollars or upwards. But it is nothing but a promise on which the government must pay interest. The notes are the same, having the additional value of being in smaller denominations, so that they can pass from hand to hand as a medium of exchange.

But people will tear their hair and get wild-eyed at the government issuing notes that bear no interest, and think that notes that bear interest, called "bonds," are perfectly legitimate and all right.

There are those to whom inflation would not be helpful. Those are the ones who owe nothing and whom everybody owes. Even some of those are in favor of moderate inflation, realizing that it is the best thing for the country.

While it is expected that President Roosevelt would long ere this have very definitely provided for inflation, one of the chief reasons, in our judgment, for somewhat of a sag over the country, is that it is now generally believed that he will not pursue this course. The fact that they are planning to refinance by lowering the rate of interest from that now paid, of certain issues of Liberty bonds, and taking them up with other bonds, and not with notes, indicates that the President has abandoned pretty much the idea of inflation by any such route. It is possible, if the value of the dollar is "pegged" in gold, at a low enough point, which we discuss in another editorial, it will amount generally to inflation.

DEVALUING THE DOLLAR

It has been suggested by those who are near to administration councils in Washington that we shall wake up some morning to find the value of the dollar reduced to 60 cents in gold. It is one of the many rumors that is abroad.

There is no reason to be disturbed about the prospects, for in international trade the dollar is already down to approximately 65 cents. Prices in this country are already beginning to be adjusted to the cheaper dollar. Some such adjustment has come to be necessary in view of conditions both domestic and foreign.

This would be a process of inflation which has the advantages of fiat money, and none of its disadvantages which the anti-inflationists urge attach to it. Once let loose millions of paper dollars, and the thing is permanent. The devaluing of the dollar keeps us on the gold standard and yet gives us a larger supply of dollars. In that way we do not break away from the international standard of money values. France did that when she reduced the value of the franc to one-fifth of its gold value. Many other countries did the same.

Some adjustment of money to prices is inevitable if we are to get out of our difficulties. This, perhaps, may be least objectionable to all concerned. It is reported that England will probably devalue the pound to the figure where it now stands in the international market.

A PRESIDENT'S WEEK

This was the program of the President last week. As we read it we wondered how any human being could stand up under a load like it. Here it is: Announced the creation of a government non-profit corporation to buy and distribute the necessities of life to the unemployed this winter; made a surprise visit to the American Legion Convention in Chicago, and made a speech there which stirred the Legion and the country at large; signed seventeen NRA codes; spoke at the National Association of Catholic Charities in New York; won from the leaders of the steel industry after a four hours' conference an agreement to treat with the striking miners; discharged William E.

Humphreys from the Federal Trade commission; appointed two new members to that Board. In addition there was the mass of routine business, conferences, reading of state papers, and the gaining of knowledge of what is going on in all parts of the country and the world. The Presidency, always a hard task, is trebly hard in these days of emergency. Some presidents have been able to take the job fairly easy. That was the case with President Taft, who always had time to play golf. For Mr. Coolidge, as one of the writers of the Mirrors of Washington said, the presidency was a daze and a doze. Wilson was a tremendous worker. Hoover never spared himself. Franklin Roosevelt seems to have the facility that they did not have to go about the work with a smile and a gracious manner.

But, after all, human nature cannot stand such a strain as this one week of the President's time called for. Yet how can he escape it? Responsibility cannot be transferred. The President must make decisions ultimately. The gathering of data and seeking of counsel is his to share with others. But he must make the decisions.

NARROWING DOWN OF AUTOMOBILE COMPANIES

According to the figures of registration of automobiles in the country during the month of August, 92 per cent of the automobiles on the market are made by three companies. The other eight per cent is made by a dozen or more smaller companies, ranging in production from 2.8 per cent down to 0.1 per cent.

Most of these smaller concerns are destined to go out of business. They have been fighting for existence during the four years of the depression. A few of them will continue because they build a special car which will continue to be in demand by a few people.

It is also of interest to note that 80 per cent of the cars registered are in the low price class. The fight is on between the three companies to dominate that field. A year ago 70 per cent were in the low price class. Also, a year ago, 88 per cent of the automobiles registered, manufactured by the three leading companies, were differently distributed among them. One company has suffered a loss of 11 per cent, while the two others have gained. The production of the smaller companies has been cut in two, and has gone to increase the big three.

This condition has been inevitable for some time, but the years of depression have hastened the killing of automobile companies. The depression of 1921 witnessed the passing of a large number. The Winton, the Haynes, the Chandler and many others less well-known went down at that time, or shortly after. The prospects are that ultimately the number of automobile companies will be reduced to even less than the three now dominating the field.

Every new industry runs the same course. In radio it is beginning to be manifest. Consolidation is the rule in industry as new inventions and large aggregations of capital make small output unprofitable.

Mencken, Mercury Part

Stockton Record

And so Henry L. Mencken, reported weary of lambasting the figures in American life with their vanities, follies and idiosyncrasies, is planning to vacate his editorial chair in the American Mercury office!

Mencken, popularly or unpopularly called the iconoclast, is more than that. For our vest pocket Nietzsche is a veritable Titan. Not content to assail the icons, he has tackled America's very gods. From the green covers of Knopf's magazine, which was created mainly as a fulcrum for the Mencken shafts, he has fired at our cherished types in much the same spirit as Sinclair Lewis has thundered his fictional indictments of our American figures and institutions.

Mencken, it is announced, plans to return to newspaper work, as well as writing books and traveling. Somehow the Mencken program makes us suspicious of his past sincerity. With his remarkable command of language and ability to attract attention, he has made his supposed views profit him handsomely. But some of us have long entertained a sneaking hunch that he is not as aloof from the types he lambasts nor as contemptuous of them as he pretends. In fact, he is known to glory in mixing with the garden variety of mortals whom he ridicules. He never is so happy as when attending national political conventions where tycoons, Babbitts and even luncheon club members mix it. He dotes on the perspiring politicians, the smoke-filled hotel rooms, the chicanery and the give-and-take.

If he resumes newspaper work, he may be expected to skim the cream from it. But it will give him more of an opportunity to have contacts with the humans he likes, the humans who give him so much amusement. What travels he plans and what kind of books he will write remains to be revealed. Perhaps he expects to whip out novels outdoing those of "Red" Lewis.

Whatever Mencken elects to do, he will be well occupied. It is easy to think of Mencken without the American Mercury, but imagine the Mercury without Mencken! Surely without him this green-covered messenger will have lost its message—will be divested of its winged shoes.

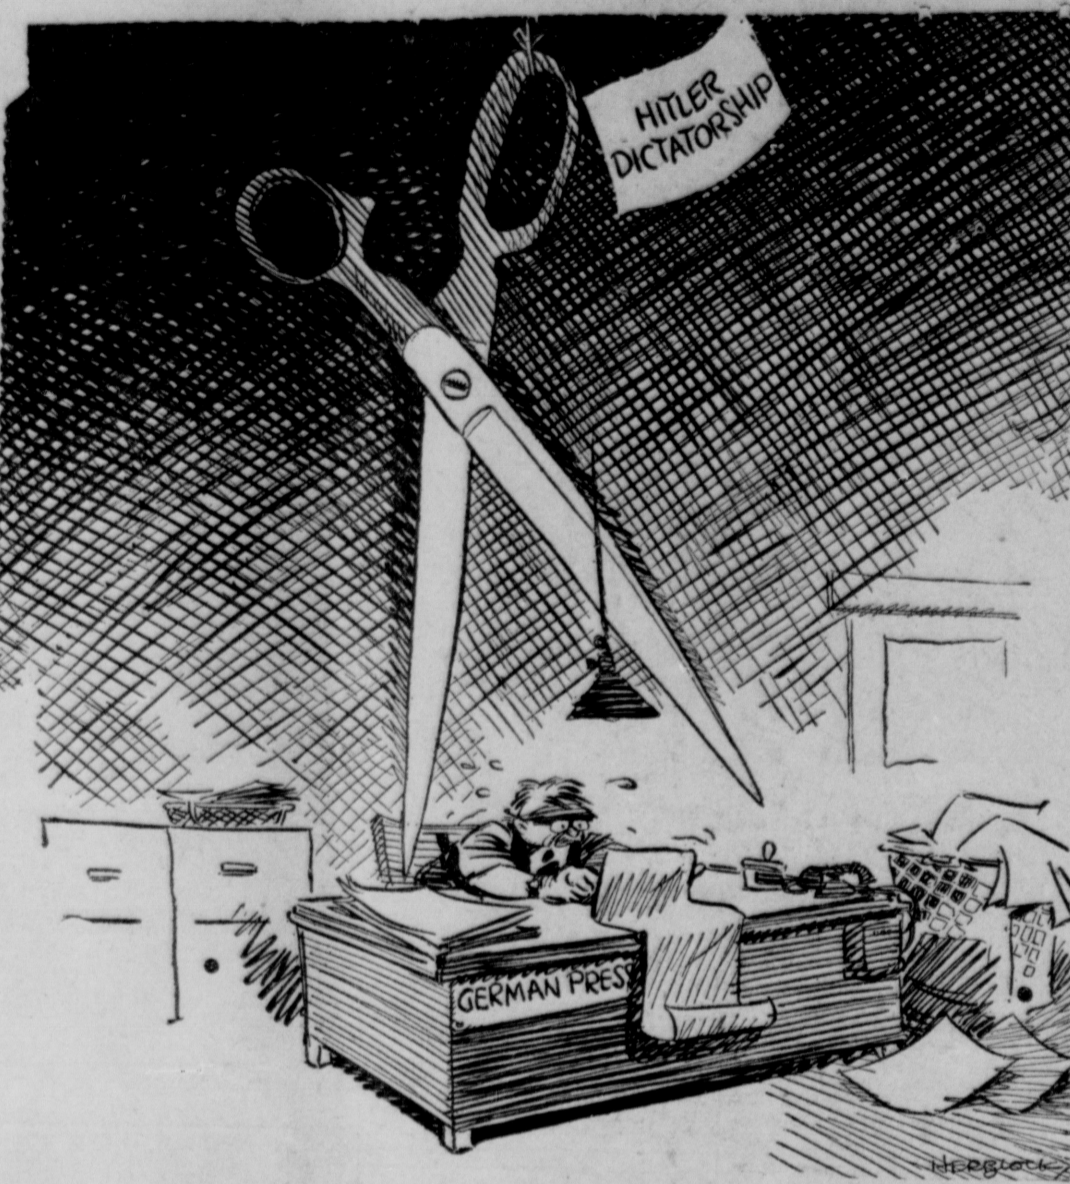

Ring Lardner

The Nation

Those who remember Mr. Lardner's long, melancholy face, with its curious expression of blank wonderment in his work, but there are some who maintain that the alleged bitterness beneath the humor was merely an invention of his highbrow critics.

Those who argue thus on the basis of the facts are, we think, right, at least as far as the facts themselves will carry them. Mr. Lardner certainly was not satirizing the ball player, the actor, and the pugilist to the advantage of the more cultured elements of the population. . . . When compelled to take sides, he was, on the contrary, and like the less resolute George Ade, fundamentally on the side of the commonest sort of common man. But to say that is not to say that he was in the slightest degree sentimental or that his chief delight was not to reveal with cruel insight the meanness and the stupidity of his chosen characters. Indeed, the depth of his cynicism is revealed in just the fact that, unlike the more obvious and unlovable as his roughnecks were, anyone else. The final horror of his stories lies in the fact that they nowhere imply a belief in the existence of any class of man or woman with characters or motives essentially different from those which he made it his business to reveal. . . .

More Truth Than Poetry

REAL REALISM

I admit that the old-fashioned hero—
Was a trifle too good to be true—
The least bit too soft.
In his curl-covered loft
For the hard, up-to-date point of view.
He always was aiding the helpless
And getting the worst of the deal,
And his eager delight
In the fight for the right
To me had but little appeal.

Today all the heroes of novels
Are quite of a different kind;
They are commonly crooks
Wearing sinister looks,
And evil of manner and mind.
They abandon their fond, dotting sweethearts,
Do these rough-mannered, hard-hearted males,
And spend half their time
In atoning for crime
In various prisons and jails.

There must be some nice, honest fellows
Who neither are milksops or rats,
And who are not so good
That they're misunderstood,
Yet do not go around robbing flats.
I wish that our masters of fiction,
Who can write what they jolly well please,
Would lay off the stuff
That is sappy or rough
And picture such persons as these.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

CLASS REACTIONS TO THE NRA

Yesterday I spoke of the spiritual revolutions which, in Italy and Germany, preceded and made possible the sweeping readjustments of economic policy and organization marking the Fascist reforms. I called attention to the fact that no comparable revolution in the mind and spirit of the American people preceded the proposals of the NRA. And I suggested that we, like the Italians and the Germans, will have to experience a spiritual revolution before we can fully realize the basic economic readjustments that will prove finally necessary if we are really to readjust our old economics to the new age.

The vital result of the spiritual movements that preceded the political and economic readjustments in Italy and Germany was the welding of the whole people, for good or for ill, into a genuine national unity or purpose respecting their political and economic program.

As we watch the varied reactions of various classes to the NRA it becomes obvious that we need to go much further on the road to national unity. Let me list some of the reactions that lie so clearly in the headlines that he who runs may read.

There are astute industrialists who, without genuine belief in or sympathy for the basic purposes of the NRA, are backing it because they see in its relaxation of the anti-trust laws a chance to consolidate the dominance of big business in the future. This is what the NRA means to them.

There are conventional business men who are in panic over what they see as the assault by the NRA upon the traditional individualism and laissez faire which is to them the sacred and inviolable gospel of economics.

There are emotional liberals who see in the NRA the vestibule to the Utopia of all their heretofore frustrated dreams.

There are radicals who see in the NRA a chance to slip Socialism in through the back door.

There are other and more extreme radicals who can see nothing in the NRA but a peaceful penetration of Fascism into our economic life.

There are some political forces in the opposition whose sole interest in the NRA seems to be to discover flaws in its program which can be turned to political advantage in the next congressional elections.

There are many who are profoundly skeptical of this or that aspect of the NRA, but are backing it heartily because they see in it the hopeful beginning of a candid confession upon the part of government that we must stop tinkering and face the necessity of a comprehensive readjustment of our old economics to the new age.

Clearly this wide diversity is not the sort of national unity that will put irresistible force behind any national program. I repeat what I said yesterday: The big job ahead for our national leadership is to inspire a spiritual revolution that shall give to the imperative economic readjustments in policy and organization the needed dynamic.

MUSIC

"Turn off that radio, Charles. I'm listening to the music."
"You call that music? Shut it off this minute."
"You listen to whatever you like but when I want to listen you always holler, 'Shut it off.'"
"If you'd ever turn on anything decent I wouldn't have to make you shut it off but you must have all the brass bands and the rums and the saxes going together. Just a beastly noise. I like music and I can't stand that stuff."
"Well, I can't stand your stuff, either. It's too dead."
I think we make the same mistake about the music that we do about the literature and the other things of the spirit. We want to impose an adult standard upon the children. It never worked and it never will.

I dislike much of the noise that is called music. Some of it is too bad for any hearing. But there is some that has melody and rhythm and the children enjoy it. I see no harm in letting them enjoy it. They must be led to listen to music and if they refuse the best we must be content to start at their level of growth and hope for a rise in it before long.

I felt rather sorry for a boy whose people were musical. He wanted to listen to one of the orchestras that was on the air for young people's appreciation. Of course it was a dance orchestra and of course there were many noises in it that made the musicians shudder. They ordered the thing turned off.

"If you want to hear any music turn on the real orchestra. Then we can all enjoy it."
Unwillingly the lad turned the dial and the strains of Handel's Largo floated into the room. He went off to his room and shut the door. "There," said his mother. "The radio has depraved his taste."

I wouldn't say that. Isn't there anything to come between the vulgar noise and the solemn strains of Handel? Youth needs rhythm and color in its music. It must be educated by slow degrees to know the masters. I have always found it better to lead them from where they had their beginnings to where they could keep on going indefinitely.
